

Now it's official, Richmond Hill has a new Civitan Club. Last Saturday night president of the North York club, Ken Timney (left) presented the charter to the new president of the Richmond Hill Civitan Club, Elio Quintile. So far, the service club, whose goal is to promote good citizenship, has 26 members. The next meeting will be held December 10 at Montgomery's Tavern and any man or women in town interested in joining, or just finding out what the club is all about, is invited to call Mr. Quintile at 884-2712.

Women may now join Club

For the first time in Eastern Canada, women are being invited to join what has always been an all male stronghold... the Progress Clubs.

The York Central branch of the Canadian Progress Club in conjunction with the Newmarket club are combining efforts to launch a Women's Progress Club for women in southern York Region. The new club will be chartered February 23, 1980, and when formed, will be only the third of its kind in Canada.

The only other women's branches are in Western Canada.

Members in Progress Clubs come from every walk of life, every religion and every nationality.

For further information about the Canadian Progress Club especially how you can join the new women's branch, call 895-2714 or 895-2842.

Cancer Unit honors Richmond Hill man

A Richmond Hill resident received a special presentation when members of the Richmond Hill Unit of the Canadian Cancer Society met Thursday at the Yonge Street office. Grant Marshall, director of Marshall's

Funeral Home on Yonge Street, received a certification of appreciation from Bonnie Thompson, this year's Cancer Unit president.

Mr. Marshall expressed his thanks for the certificate and indicated that when Richmond Hill citizens wish to donate to the Cancer Society through an "In Memoriam" he is prepared to have his staff perform the added duty of completing the paperwork.

Ms. Thompson reported on the annual meeting of the Canadian Cancer Society held at the Sheraton Centre last month.

On that day executive officers were selected for the Ontario Division and Ms. Thompson was appointed as the Service to Patients member.

Following reports from various chairmen, and the closing of the meeting, discussion centred around the 'Talent of Richmond Hill' night planned for late February.
