FARMS FOR SALE

A VILLAGE LOT in the village of Metcalfe, one half acre of land, a double tenement house in first class condition, good well and small stable. Will be sold on very reasonable terms.

A VILLAGE LOT one quarter acre, good house, summer kitchen, wood shed and stable in good condition, good well. Will be sold below its value as the owner has gone to farming.

A VILLAGE LOT comprising two acres of first class land, with a fine dwelling house newly rebuilt, a good barn and wood shed, first class well with iron pump, good apple orchard. The price asked is below what it cost to rebuild the house. Must be sold as the owner is engaged in business in the United States.

DAIRY FARM, well located, comprising 100 acres, 85 acres cleared, balance in pasture, buildings in fair condition, well fenced with wire fencing, good drainage, only half mile from Russell Station, the machinery which is practically new goes with the farm. This farm is going to be sold as the owner has other business interests which engage his attention.

FARM comprising 200 acres of good land beside a public school, the buildings are not of any great value but are offering this farm at a price which we believe to be the best bargain in the County of Russell today. The owner, a widow living in the United States, is unable to look after the property. Some person is going to get a bargain in this farm.

We have a number of smaller Farms for Sale which we will be pleased to show intending buyers.

Mr. Alex McDougal of Marvelville has received word from his son D. P. who is in the trenches somewhere in France, that he had received a slight scalp wound from a piece of shrapnell but does not incapacitate him from fighting. D. P. is in charge of a big gun.

HOGS

As is well known, hogs have reached an unprecedentedly high level, $11.65 per cwt. being paid for fed and watered, on the Toronto market. The fact that, even with live hogs at this figure, shipments of bacon are regularly going forward to England, will serve to illustrate very clearly the demand for that product on the British market. Without doubt, Canada stands in a better position today to develop a permanent bacon trade with Great Britain than has ever been the case before. To do this, however, there must be volume of supply. There is very good reason to believe that, although prices cannot be expected to remain at the present high level, the demand for bacon, in the face of the supply that can be obtained, will be such as to hold the market in a very firm condition, both during and for a considerable period following the war.

Great Britain's imports of bacon in 1915 amounted to £25,441,460. From Canada she obtained only £3,324,511. The fact that Canadian bacon has been selling at an advance of from 10 to 12s. per cwt. above American and at not more than 12s. under the nominal quotation for Danish, illustrates very clearly to what extent Canada could increase her export trade, had she a sufficient quantity of hogs to make this possible. The English merchant and the British consumer will buy Canadian bacon today, quality being equal, in preference to that from any other country in the world with the exception of Ireland. Not only so, but an enormous market exists also for hams, frozen pork and pork cuts of various descriptions. This market is as remunerative as the bacon trade, although it is not likely to prove as constant. The West is producing a great quantity of rough grain this year. As compared with wheat, it will probably be relatively low in price. It should therefore, be a sound business proposition to breed as many sows this spring as would provide each farm next fall, with such a number of feeding hogs as can be conveniently handled and suitably finished. They should, however, be so selected and mated as to maintain the approved bacon type. Unless this be done, we cannot compete with Ireland and Denmark and will lose status on the British market. The development of our bacon trade is a purely commercial undertaking and we must early recognize that we cannot sell to the British merchant unless we give him what he wants. This granted, thrifty management and good feeding should yield a return this year which will more than compensate for all the labour involved.
