Poisonous Gases Dry Vegetables

Discoverer Finds They Make Vegetable Pores Relax and Give Up Their Moisture

A discovery that poison gases will dry vegetables quicker than heat alone, and speed up industrial use of many farm products, was announced last week in Science by the United States Bureau of Chemistry and Soils.

Full particulars and price list, on request. Tweddle Chick Hatchery Ltd.,
Box No. 10, Fergus, Ontario. Present commercial drying uses high temperatures. But heat, says E. F. Hopkins, of Laurel, Miss., discoverer of the poison gas process, causes decomposition and loss.

In poison gas atmosphere, however, vegetable pores relax. They become so "limp" that they lose even at low temperatures as much as 60 per cent. of their water and syrups when whirled in a centrifuge. Little heat is needed to evaporate most of the remaining moisture.

The gases tried for this purpose include chloroform, carbon tetrachloride, which is used in fire extinguishers, toluene, fat solvents and sulphur dioxide. The poisons did not "linger" afterward in the vegetable juices or flesh.

Keep Indefinitely These experiments have been ap plied thus far only to the industrial and chemical uses of farm products. They may be used on food, but this Mr. Hopkins says has not been investigated.

The poison-extracted juices and pulps, Mr. Hopkins says, will keep indefinitely for future use or for manufacture. The dried plant can be stored "without material loss from freezing, respiration, moulding or enzyme action." The mechanical operations of drying with poison gas, he adds, are cheaper.

The possibilities have been shown in extracting starch and alcohol from sweet potatoes. The gas, Mr. Hopkins explains, saves the starch from physical and chemical changes before extraction. It has been found by the bureau that the sugars thus extracted from sweet potatoes can be converted into alcohol.

Increase in Population Demanded for Japan

TOKYO .- Baron Ryoitsu Asada, in interrogating the Welfare Minister in the House of Peers last week about the population problem, said:

"We must increase Japan's population. We must triple the population. It is a deplorable fact that young women of today are practicing birth control in the interest of

"This birth control philosophy is a tragic mistake. Japan must have more babies," Mr. Asada continued.

Australian Wool Sales Lowest In Six Years

Australian wool sales for the first six months of the 1937-38 selling season, covering the last half of 1937, dropped to the lowest level for any like period in more than six years, the New York Wool Top Exchange Service reported.

Transactions, as reported to the service by the Australian National Council of Wool Selling Brokers, totaled about 366,238,000 pounds, actual weight. This compared with 436,265,000 pounds in corresponding period of the previous year and a sixyear average of 424,503,000 pounds.

Rapid Relief from RHEUMATIC PAINS

In the ordinary way the victim of Rheumatic Pains has become too hardened by long suffering to expect lasting relief. Nevertheless, one feature of the Fynnon Salt treatment that has astonished Rheumatic sufferers is the surprising rapidity with which it brings relief. Prepared to be patient, they are amazed to find that within a week their rheumatic symptoms no longer make life utterly miserable.

no longer make life utterly miserable.

The active ingredient. in Fynnon Sait, Sodium, Potassium, Lithium, have a "quick-action" effect on the Uric Acid. They counter it and neutralize it at every turn. First the attack—then the victory. Uric Acid has a very short life when Fynnon Sait, a combination of Natural Saits of the Earth, gets to grips with it. What a relief—when you realize you can swing your arms and legs with the supple freedom dyouth. That's the happy state you soon get into when you take a half teaspoonful of Fynnon Sait, the proven British remedy, in a tumblerful of water every morning. Get a large 75c package from your druggist and start your "quick-action" treatment tomorrow. If you have any difficulty getting supplies, writes Laurentian Agencies, St. Gabriel St., Montreal. 9
