Library Month

All this month you may return ALL overdue books to Russell Library free of charge. Please use this opportunity to return any long overdue books that are gathering dust on your shelf. Books are expensive to replace and we would appreciate their return even if they are badly damaged. A new service is available from the library. We have installed a "book slot" so you may return books even when the library is not open.

The library is sponsoring an "art contest", for all elementary school children in Russell. Details are available at both schools. Five dollar book certificates will be awarded to the winners in November.

a) Oct. 12, at 10 a.m. at Russell Public School, Elizabeth Cleaver, well-known writer, illustrator of English children's books will be presenting a discussion, with slides of her work.

b) Oct. 17, at 2:30 p.m. at St. Joseph's Separate School Cicile Gagnon, well-known writer, illustrator of French children's books will be presenting a discussion, with slides of her work.

c) Oct. 26, at 10 a.m. at Russell Public School, Rick Avery, a gifted musician from the National Film Board, will present a program of home-made music, especially geared to active young audiences. This is suited to all age levels from pre-school to adult.

Library story time has begun for ages 4 and 5, every Wednesday at 10 a.m. until further notice. For more information, please contact Mrs. Betty Adie at 445-5337.
