A Fair Day for a Farm Boy

by

Brian Carscadden, 9
Grade 4, Russell Public

At seven o'clock in the morning, my alarm clock woke me with a start. Boy, I hate getting up at seven o'clock in the morning. I could have broken that thing. I was as tired as a grumpy old bear because I had been up until midnight the night before. Oh, well, I wanted to get up anyway because to-day was Fair Day. We were going to take a big bull, a little calf, a four year old cow and a five year old cow. I was really nervous, thats for sure. So I got dressed and went straight to the barn.

As soon as I walked in the door my dad told me to go out and get the cows in the field. That night we were expecting a new little baby calf so I ran out to the field and found a new little girl calf. Boy, that started the day off well, so I brought the calf and the other cows to the barn. After we got all the cows in the barn and all the chores were done up we went in for breakfast. After I finished up my breakfast I went back to the barn and put the cows back in the field. After that we took the cows to the fairground.

After the day was over we ended up with a first place ribbon, a third place ribbon, a second place ribbon and another first place ribbon. So we loaded the cattle from the cattle barn and returned the cows back home for the night milking.

Oh, boy, I wish that we could do that well every year.
