"Let's go to the Fair" —
A popular cry then too

In 1920, the Russell Fair had already been operating for more than 60 years and as these photographs from that decade show was as popular as it is today. Clockwise, from right a parade of school children, to whom the first day of the two-day fair was dedicated, officially opening the event; fairgoers chatting (note the Model T Ford and Flora's, of Winchester, Ice Cream Tent); competitors in the heavy horse how; Elder 'Mac' McEwan with his prize-winning horse; and the old judges stand at the fairgrounds.
