During the last few years, some new facts have come to light about the historicity of Jesus and the truthfulness of the scriptures. Recently, a group of scientists have made some amazing statements concerning their study of "The Shroud of Turin" — believed to be the burial clothes of Jesus. Not only do the studies show that the "Shroud" is impregnated with a 2,000 year old human image, but there is also evidence that this man had received wounds to the head, hands, feet and on his back — the marks of a Roman whip. After all the tests were completed, these world class scientists stated, in a sense of wonder, that they considered "The Shroud of Turin" to be authentic. Truth will always stand the test of time.

Another study has been done by a medical doctor on Apostle John's account of Christ's crucifixion. Again, the results reveal the absolute integrity of the bible. This physician focused on John 19:34 which says "one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and forthwith came there out blood and water". It has been medically proven, so the doctor contends, that when a person is under extreme emotional and physical anguish, the heart can rupture and spill blood into the abdominal cavity. Herein is the explanation why both water and blood flowed out of Jesus' side — He died of a broken heart.
