handed salesman. You won't ever have to circle the block eight times to find a parking space or buck traffic to get there. You won't be fourteenth in line, only to be served by a sharp-tongued, gum-chewing clerk who couldn't care less about what you want or get. These are some of the things you can't get in Russell stores. I don't mind, do you?

OFA CALLS FOR BEEF MARKETING OVERHAUL

A press release received by the Review June 19 outlined the Ontario Federation of Agriculture's unhappiness with the current state of beef marketing in Canada. The Federation pointed to losses in the cow-calf business and the cycles of over-production and under-production as two leading causes of distress to the beef farmer.
