The Review received a note the other day, and we're delighted to pass it on.

Hi! I'm Brenda Prevost and I was chosen by the Junior Farmers of Russell to go to the Leadership Camp at Bark Lake this year. It was a great experience and I learned a lot. I was very fortunate to be chosen and wish to thank all the Junior farmers for choosing me and Lorraine Eadie for coaxing me to go. Thank you.

Editor and Staff of the Russell Review,

I think there was an error in the Russell Review on page 7 concerning the history of Russell. Many persons believed that the Slaughter House was the property of Longtin and when they saw that in the Review, they asked me if it's really mine or not. So, I would like you to correct this error. It is NOT Longtin's Slaughter House but Russell Slaughter House and the property of Marcel Gareau. Thanks for your comprehension to my point of view.

Yours truly,

Marcel Gareau

EDITOR'S NOTE: Our error was quite unintentional and we thank you for correcting us.
