Busy Innkeeper

As Christmas time is here again
So many things come crowding in,
So much to plan, so much to do,
The shopping days now but a few.

I walk through stores 'midst shopping throngs;
Cash registers are sounding gongs.
I think about the crowded inn
And the keeper with "no room" for Him.

Midst tinsel'd scenes by crowds hemmed in,
I yearn to see the stable dim.
It seems the babe has been replaced
With Santa's smiling face.

I hurry home with gifts to wrap;
My strength and energy is strapped.
I search my heart and know it's true -
I'm a busy innkeeper, too.
