

Druella Acantha Malvina's Column

Gem Of The Month -One thing about the School of Experience is that it will repeat the lesson if you flunk it the first time.

A crowd stood outside the cage of a wolf at one of those wild animal ranches. The owner of the ranch told the crowd that the wolf was actually a gentle animal and invited a young and pretty blonde to step into the cage with the wolf. The crowd ah-h-h-d at the girl's bravery as she stepped in and the door was shut. But - the huge wolf just walked up to the girl and began nuzzling her legs.

Two old men were standing in the crowd. One turned to the other and said, "Think you'd have enough nerve to do that?"

"Yer dern tootin'," said the other. "Just get that wolf out of there!"

Summer Berry Pudding

9 cups berries(whatever is at hand)
1/2 to 3/4 cup sugar (to suit taste)
2 T water

Cook over medium heat till sugar dissolves and fruit juices start to run. Cool 10 mins. Cut crusts off slices of white bread and butter on one side. Arrange in bottom and sides of a 2L bowl or pan with buttered sides next to dish. Using a slotted spoon, cover bread with fruit. Reserve 1 cup of juice. Fit remaining bread slices over the top, trimming to fit. Fit a plate on top of these and put weight on top. Refrigerate 8 hours or overnight. Remove weight and dip dish in hot water for 30 seconds. Run a thin bladed knife around edges. Invert on serving dish and use reserved juice on any bread that has not been saturated. Serves 8.
