

Library Offers Forgiveness Days

Have overdue library books been keeping you awake? Have you been procrastinating because of fear of mounting fines? (Ten cents per library day, after all.)

In an effort to round up all those overdue items and get them back on the shelves, the County of Prince Edward Public Library is holding Forgiveness Days from April 1st to April 12th. This is the opportunity to bring everything back and pay absolutely no fines. And as usual, no matter from which branch the books, tapes or magazines were originally borrowed, they can be returned to any of the six branches of the library.

Even if you've returned everything you borrowed, during Forgiveness Days any and all outstanding fines will be pardoned, so be sure to have the librarian check your record when you're in the library.

The annual cost to the County of Prince Edward Public Library in lost materials can total as much as $6000—money better spent on buying new materials than replacing lost ones
