

MILFORD BOOK CLUBS

The County of Prince Edward Public Library supports Books Clubs wherever there is sufficient interest. Books are made available through the library's lending system and book discussions take place at branch libraries.

Milford Branch now supports two Book Clubs each meeting monthly. The evening group founded in 2001 meets on the 3rd Thurs. The recently formed afternoon group meets on the 2nd Thurs. until Sept. when it changes to the 2nd Tues. The afternoon group has room for new members although interest in either group is always welcome.

As the evening group evolved August became "poetry month" when members read and discuss various selections. Also, December calls for a lighter or more festive read. Last December members read Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest" and sharing the various entertaining roles hammed it up to everyone's enjoyment. See photo: [Cecily (Joan Laurie) tells Algernon (Irene Robb) "I don't think I would care to catch a sensible man. I shouldn't know what to talk to him about!"]
