

The South Marysburgh Mirror

Published for and about local people and events

“For the Birds” Concert returns

County songbirds will celebrate the spring migration once again at the "For the Birds" concert at Mount Tabor Playhouse on May 20th.

"This is an annual fundraiser for the Prince Edward Point Bird Observatory," says producer Janet Kellough. "It's also part of Birding Prince Edward, the 10 day birding festival that spotlights the huge numbers of migratory birds that flock to Prince Edward County in the springtime."

The festival this year spans 10 days, from May 13th to the 22nd, with numerous activities scheduled throughout.

"We've got a really great line-up for the concert this year," Kellough says. "I'll be on hand to tell a few

Continued on page 12

Milford Easter Parade largest yet

A pink Easter Bunny driving a purple jeep led over 100 children along with their families and friends from the Milford Town Hall to Mount Tabor on April 15th. The children wore all sorts of wonderful costumes and many had decorated their bicycles. Babies in strollers and wheelbarrows filled with lots of bunnies, chicks, flowers and eggs joined in the 4th Annual Easter Parade. Strolling musicians were a new treat this year and everyone enjoyed seeing the goats, chickens and lamb that joined the parade too.

There were lots of eggs to find during the Easter Egg Hunt and more candy was hiding inside the Mexican piñata hanging in the gazebo. Then it was time to gobble a BBQ hotdog or two and perhaps some pop or hot chocolate. To top off the day, Family Bingo was played back at the Town Hall.

The Milford Bloomers would like to thank every-

Continued on page 14

Express Magazine gets new name

When the May/June issue of express magazine hits the streets soon, it will be under a new masthead - upfront.

"We've enjoyed tremendous success with the magazine," says publisher Christine Renaud, "so I want readers to know that we're not changing the essence of the content or our direction, just the name."

Upfront will continue to focus on the vibrant art scene and events in Prince Edward County, explains Renaud "but additionally, we're looking to become involved with the Kingston market - sort of twin cities idea, though the magazine will remain predominantly a County publication."

Renaud feels that, while people do, of course, visit from Kingston, many more could be coming and hopes to promote events to Kingston through upfront. "Also, many County people enjoy visiting Kingston and they might like to know about specific happenings there as well. I know we already have Kingston readers who enjoy our magazine and I think we could have many more."

Continued on page 19

* URGENT NOTICE ***
TELEPHONE FUNDRAISING SCAM
Please check this out on page 10

inside this Issue...

- Some Thoughts on Getting Older 4
- I'm an Expert! 5
- Cruising 7
- Druella Acantha Malvina 11
- Transplant Recipient Urges Residents 13
- Life in the Past 18
- The Last Word 20