farmers.

Next, Mrs. F. Vanalstine conducts a fish buying business, the fish being bought and packed by experienced men. Just as you step from there you hit Quinten Minaker's garage, one of the best equipped garages between here and Toronto. Next is where Ross Jeffery does fish packing of all kinds, doing a good business and on the square.

Next is Wilber Brooks' - blacksmith and woodworker. Then from there our next stop is William Ferguson, another blacksmith shop.

The last last place of business is Clate Stuffle's garage. He is a good man on any kind of car or what have you.

Now cross the street and come back up the other side. First, we come to Gilbert Striker, a first class carpenter. Next is the Town Hall on the corner of Main and Philip streets. Just around the corner on Philip Street is Carson Scott who will supply you with anything you want in the line of woodwork.

Back to Main Street and there is Selim Starks' general store and his store is up to date in every way. He also has the mail service and bus line to Picton every day with a good careful driver. Then we have the Marysburgh telephone office owned by Reid and Johnston and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Glen McQuoid.

Next we have Dave Pounder's store, up to the minute in every way and doing a good business. Then we have the Post Office run by Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Ellis. Around this corner on King Street, we have Cecil Bongard, another fish dealer, with his big ice house.

From there to the corner we have George Lowery, another blacksmith and one of the best horse-shoers around. On Queen Street we have Ernie Brown, carpenter and contractor, who also sells roofing.

Perhaps Milford is more famous for its fish--its
