South Bay U.C.W.

South Bay United Church Hall was the Meeting place for the U.C.W. on Wednesday, October 11th, at 1:30 p.m.

President Sandra Emlaw opened with an example of student reasoning. The teacher asked the pupils to name something they couldn't do. One student said he couldn't swim without water wings. When asked what he could do he sensibly answered that he could swim with water wings.

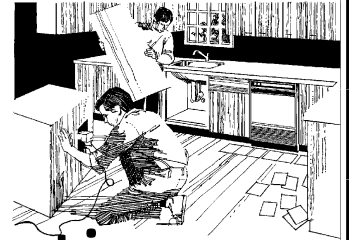

Our theme hymn, purpose and Lord's prayer were recited by all.

Brenda Minaker's devotional was based on Acts 9, verses 36 to 42. Dorcas was a widow who belonged to a Church situated in Joppa. There were many widows here who relied on public charity to survive. Dorcas tried to alleviate their needs by sewing clothing for the women and their children and in return was much loved by all. When she died, Peter restored her to her grieving friends. Gifts come to us all from God's bounty and we are responsible for making the most use of these.

Thirteen answered roll call by wearing something orange to represent Autumn and Hallowe'en.

they go.' Oscar Wilde.

'He has Van Gogh's ear for music.' Billy Wilder.

The next time someone accuses someone else of insulting them, gauge the supposed insult against the above. In many cases one of the above in a beautifully constructed sentence will provide the appropriate analysis of the dull witted statement of the supposed insulter.
