The Milford Bistro reopening

After a closed season, the Bistro is back. Chris Pengelly and Veronica Andersson are realizing their dream in reopening what has to be called a fixture of the County. Visiting the County in the fall of 2006, they fell in love with both the County and Milford. After months of analysis and talking with many people from the County, they purchased the Bistro. Hopefully ready for the long weekend in May, they are planning on bringing a whole new concept in dining experience to the area.

Opening for both lunch and dinner, the menus will be significantly different.

Lunch will see menu items barbecued over real hardwood charcoal served with assorted salads. Relaxed and casual could best describe the whole luncheon approach. Open from 11:30 to 3pm, Chris & Veronica hope to appeal to local residents as well as the many bicyclists and wine tasting visitors to the County.

Dinner will offer upscale bistro dining featuring lovingly prepared appetizers, delicious entrees and irresistible desserts in a candlelit environment from 5pm to

An event such as this could not take place without

Now, five years later, the play is coming back, but this time to Mount Tabor Community Playhouse in Milford. Again the cast consists of local doctors and nurses who are presently rehearsing under the direction of Al Hazell, director of the original performance. This time, all proceeds above costs will be donated to Prince Edward County Memorial Hospital Foundation.

The story, originally portrayed in the 1954 movie, was written in script form by Ted Willis in 1957. Adapted from the novel by Richard Gordon about the off duty lives of a group of medical students, this play weaves their happy triumphs and brave failures, love affairs and parties into a many colored pattern.

The play provides a good variety of character parts. Simon Sparrow becomes the new roommate of Tony Grimsdyke and John Evans. All three strive to balance medical school, women friends and their fondness for partying. When they run up against the gruff and blustery Sir Lancelot Spratt, they find their love affairs and medical training take on new twists and turns; so much so that by Act 3, they must take drastic steps to extricate them-
