lation. They are the ones who are encouraged to have a credit card with exorbitant interest rates; encouraged to place their hard earned cash into Mutual Funds and hope to increase their equity so that their retirement years can be more enjoyable and less concerned with financial worries. There must be millions of American citizens who are wondering about that “trust” as they watch their 401K’s (the equivalent of our RRSP’s) diminish rapidly in value and in some cases cease to exist.

I encourage you to view the 47 minute video called “Money as Debt.” It can be found through Google. It is overdue time that ordinary citizens began to understand who has benefitted most financially in the past couple of decades and why. Thankfully we are a democratic society and change is possible when the public...the voter is informed.

Pastor Ian (for the little people).
