

NEW CREDIT NEWS

A major deed of vandalism was done-but not by people when the 30 foot elm tree in front of the New Credit School was smashed and broken by the ice storm. This time nature was the vandal. We are happy to report that no other damage was done around New Credit School during the holidays.

Report Cards

The teachers at New Credit had hoped to send out report cards long before the holidays but they did not arrive until the last Wed. before the holidays. With the concert to prepare for and other things to consider it was felt that the time was too short to prepare them and send them out. Also the children might have lost them if they had kept them over the 2 week holidays, so the report cards will go out this week. Any New Credit parents who wish to discuss their child's progress with the teachers are welcome to do so.

More Heat at New Credit School

The school will be more comfortable now that the hot water heaters have been extended and bigger water pipes put in. The Gr. 5 & 6 room was too frigid for school work one morning in December and several times it was too cold for comfort. The sun kept the Gr. 3 & 4 room on the East side of the school a little warmer but not much. However, it was better than the old wood stoves that used to be in the old school.

Helping My Father

I was helping my father fix a wheel. Then the wheel crashed on my fathers hand. Then I tried to get the wheel off his hand and I couldn't move the wheel. So I got the jack and got the wheel off.
