THOUGHT

Inside my mind do I exist
Where I find peace and confidence
I can walk in strength and love
And not care what lies about.

Oft in the stillness of the black
Scorpion night, my fantasy thoughts
Are enlightened with the song of Spring, the image of love, beauty and grace.

One dances in a crazy motion
Then tip toes through the sweet,
Fragrant smelling flowers and once
Feels the glistening warm sun rays of summer.

One reaches for the endless
Stretch of gold, that lingers
On the firey horizon
That disappears behind the clouds.
With the haze, I return to the Reality of thought.
