

C H I L D R E N ' S P A G E

ANTS, ALTHOUGH ADMIRABLE, ARE AWFULLY AGGRAVATING

The busy ant works hard all day
And never stops to rest or play.
He carries things ten times his size,
And never grumbles, whines or cries.
And even climbing flower stalks,
He always runs, he never walks.
He loves his work, he never tires,
And never puffs, pants or perspires.

Yet though I praise his boundless vim
I am not really fond of him.

Walter R. Brooks -

.....

WOULD YOU BELIEVE.....

A Python Eats Once A Month - Snakes can swallow an animal whole by unhinging their jaws and stretching their head muscles very wide over their prey. Swallowing may take a long time, and the snake has to stop and breathe because the large object in its mouth blocks the air passages. To breathe while eating, the snake pushes the end of its windpipe out between the floor of its mouth and its food. Then the snake pulls the tube back and continues to eat. A python can swallow a wild boar weighing 130 pounds. Because the meal is so large the python may eat only once a month.

.....

Brain Teaser - You are the driver of an express train travelling from Brisbane to Melbourne at an average speed of 90 miles an hour. The train stops at Newcastle for ten minutes, and at Sydney for twenty minutes, passes through Wollongong and Port Kembla, and arrives at Melbourne five minutes early. What is the driver's name?

A. You ought to know. You are the driver.

.....

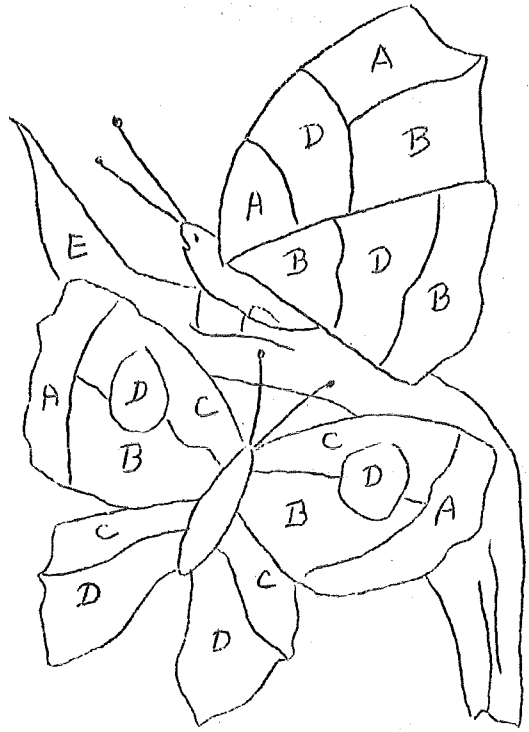

TONGUE TWISTER.....

Cross crossings cautiously.

.....

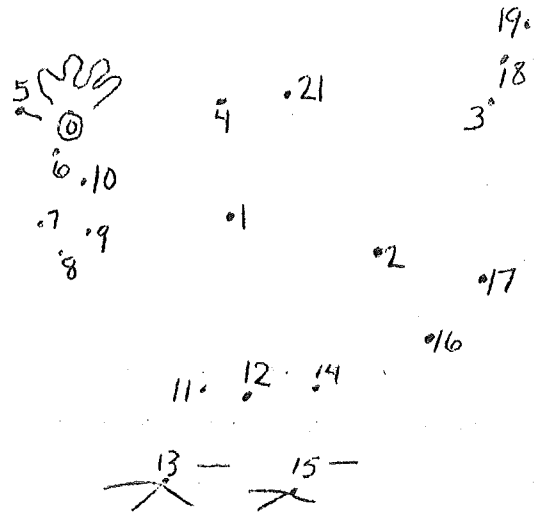

Butterfly Friends.

A - Red, B - Blue, C - Purple
D - Yellow, E - Green

JOIN THE DOTS

20

Join the Dots 1 to 21