

The story of Kanonhstaton...

Continued from page 8

put feet to their support of Six Nations by going to the Cayuga and participating in a demonstration outside the Cayuga Court House where a Six Nations woman, Francine Doxtator, was facing charges filed against her by Christine McHale, wife of Caledonia activist Gary McHale. Doxtator is charged with uttering threats against Mrs. McHale, a charge Doxtator denies.