

Expositor Photo

Helen Doctor says her 21-hectare property in Brantford Township is Indian land that has been in the family for more than 180 years. The township wants a say in the development of the land, which is exempt from municipal taxes and zoning controls.