Dr. O's regalia sold at Glenhyrst

Ceremonial regalia of the I.O.F. was on display at the opening of the Glenhyrst Arts Council 10th annual antiques show and sale in Brantford in May.

Originally the property was that of Dr. Oronkyatekha, Mohawk Indian Chief born on the Six Nations Reserve. The black velvet cocked hat was topped with white Bird of Paradise feathers which folded neatly into a separate compact holder, the colorful gold braid-trimmed, blue and yellow sashes were complete with metal carrying cases. The carrying cases are mounted with brass plaques bearing the inscription "The Right Honorable Dr. Oronkyatekha".

Dr. O. (Pete Martin) was a member of the eminent Martin family which produced so many notable musicians. He attended Oxford University, England, and qualified as a physician and practised in London, Ont.

He was endowed with exceptional organizational ability and became associated with community work. He was a founder of the I.O.F. to which he later on in his life devoted his whole time. He became the Supreme Chief Ranger of the Order in 1894 and continued until his death in 1907. He may rightly be called a founder of the modern insurance business of today.

It was the Warriors versus the Owen Sound North Stars last Friday evening in the first home game for Brantford Supertest Warriors, and their third straight consecutive victory in the O.L.A. Senior "B" schedule.

Charlie Thomas scored four times, all in the last period. Gil Bomberry picked up three goals and Wayne Smith, Jack Hill, Cap Bomberry and Ivan Thomas added two each.

Coach Russell (Beef) Smith felt the Warriors have shown improvement with each game played.

S. are being invited to take part, and requests are being made for billets for one or two nights for these visitors. Contact the pageant committee for information required.

Home Improvement

It is quite noticeable that the Reserve presents a much neater appearance after the garbage disposal program and the attendant sure earned his money on our road.

Now comes an opportunity for further improvement and being paid for it in the bargain. The energetic Ohsweken Fair Board is sponsoring a second Home Improvement Competition. With prizes ranging from 1st. - $60.; 2nd. - $50.; 3rd. - $40.; 4th. - $30. to 5th. - $20.

Be sure and have your entries in by June 1st, next Saturday, to the secretary, Mrs. George Garlow, phone 445-2578.

The final judging will take place the first week in September. Last year's competition was a huge success, judging by the "before" and "after" slides taken and shown last fall when the winners were awarded their prizes.

"The Gospel in Song"

The Six Nations people can fill the Ohsweken Community Hall for the occasional dance and relaxation. They can also fill it to overflowing for enjoyment in "The Gospel in Song" as the occasion was last Saturday evening, sponsored by the Six Nations Inter-Denominational Committee whose president is Norman Wright and secretary Morley Styres.

The opening prayer was invoked by Rev. Dan Butler and congregational singing followed.

The entire audience sat entranced and listened attentively to the marvellous singing and musical numbers for four solid hours, from 8 to 12 p.m. and we're positive that robust music lovers could have sat and listened for longer.

The McNeely male choir from Friendship Baptist Church, Buffalo, appeared twice on the program. Their offerings were anthems in harmony and the familiar spirituals.

A teenage group from Niagara Falls N. Y. sang their harmonized songs of Praise to their own orchestral accompaniment.

The humbers by the unusually talented Johnathan family of Lewiston, N.Y. were well received and encored.

The offerings by local groups consisted of Gospel songs in harmony to musical accompaniment were also above par - the Arthur Wright family, the Lawrence Johnathan family and the Wright Quartet.

The mixed choir of the Holy Temple Church in Buffalo, N. Y. also deserves special mention.

Further, one could not but be impressed by the fine group of young Six Nations men who arranged the entire program and were in attendance as ushers; Earl (Bunn) Gault, master of ceremonies, Rev. Dan Butler, Robert Williams, Norman Wright, Arthur Wright, Morley Styres, Edward Staats, Fred Hill, Truman Hill; Lawrence Johnathan, and there may have been others who assisted with this inspired and joyful program.

Sunday School Helpers

At an interval during the regular Sunday morning service at Grand River, the attending Sunday School presented to the church the proceeds of their "Miles for Music Walkathon". and also a dozen hymnaries. On behalf of the church members, Mrs. Andrew Jamieson gratefully received the gifts from the tiny children and thanked them for their splendid efforts and their assistance to the church.

(Cont'd)

Sunday School Helpers (cont'd)

Mr. & Mrs. Fred Hill and family of Ohsweken attended the service and contributed their musical talent. Mr. & Mrs. Hill rendered two duets to musical accompaniment "Until Then," and "I Need No Mansions Here." Mrs. Hill and daughters in a trio sang "The Glory Land Way" and "Gathering Flowers for the Master's Bouquet."

The inspired songs of the Hill family lifts the service out of the ordinary. We hope they'll return often.

On The Death of Martin Luther King (submitted anonymously)

Where were You, Lord, when the gunshot roared?
Where were You, when his life's blood poured?
The greatest man on earth is dead, Lord
Where were you?

He worked for peace in a troubled land;
Could You not stop the assassin's hand?
Isn't it time, Lord, You made Your stand?
Where were You?

His load was heavy, he'd much to bear,
He walked where others would never dare;
Lord is it possible You don't care?
Are You there?

Like You, he lived for love, oh Lord,
And like You, too, died by the sword;
Lord, couldn't You still the angry horde?
Were You there?

My faith is weak: I must ask why
Should bad men live while good ones die?
Can You answer me, Lord, from Your throne on high?
Are You there?

He lived as all men on earth should,
Upholding truth and brotherhood;
You must know, Lord, that he was good
Where are You?

The Nobel prize for peace he earned
Lord, hate and force he always spurned;
Has he to Your bosom been returned?
Are You there?

Where were You, Lord, when the gunshot roared?
Where were You when his life's blood poured?
The greatest man on earth is dead, Lord.
Where were you?

For your funny bone

History of The Ojebway Indians

Chapter 23 - Names of the "toodaims" And personal names
(Written by SS based on P.J.)

The Ojebway nation is divided into several "toodaims" (tribes). Each (toodaim) is distinguished by a certain animal or thing such as: the eagle, reindeer, otter, bear, buffalo, beaver, catfish, pike, birch-bark, white oak tree, bear's liver. The Credit Indians are of the eagle "toodaim."

Originally the Ojebways gave but one name to their children. Here are some that were in common use: Nawahjegezhegumbe, m, the sloping sky. Pepoonahbay, m, the god of the north who makes winter. Manoonooding, m, the pleasant wind. Female names are male names, with the feminine terminations of quay or gooquay added thereto.

Devotional by S. Shantz

Read Genesis 4: 8-9

Is it right to kill another person? Movies and television say that its right to kill another person if the other person is bad and you are good. The trouble with movies and television is that they forget that everybody thinks that they are the good guys and that the bank robbers and drug addicts are the bad guys. But the bank robbers and the drug addicts think that they are the good guys and that the police are the bad guys.

Is it right to kill another person? American Presidents and Canadian Prime Minister say that its right to kill another person if he's a Russian or a Chinese. The trouble is that Russian Presidents and Chinese Prime Ministers say that its right to kill another person if he's an American or a Canadian. Where do we stop and get off, with this kind of double talk?

Maybe you have'nt killed anybody and maybe you never will, but does that make you any better than Cain? When Cain killed Abel the first thing God said to Cain was "Where is Abel your brother?" "So maybe the most important question isn't "Is it right to kill another person?" But maybe the more important question is "Where is Abel your brother?" Is Abel your brother starving to death in India?" Is he freezing to death in Canada? Is he friendless and taken advantage of on this reserve?

Sure its nice to live for yourself. Sure its nice to think that the world revolves around you. Sure its nice to go around in life saying "me, me, me, me, me." But where is Abel your brother?

Voices of New Credit Young People

What New Credit needs most is: (Well I guess its got all it needs.) Lucky I came here or it would need EVERYTHING! (?)

New Credit is in need of many important things but most of all it needs more friendliness and co-operation. If more people took an interest in what happens at New Credit and put forth all their efforts to bring back all the good times which have slowly died out over the years, then New Credit could be a more lively place to live. Slowly it is retaining the values it once had but it still needs you. (?)

New Credit could have some various changes if the people had gotten along a little better than they do. Like the parents should give the kids a little more privileges. (Money) (?)

What New Credit needs most is a new I hope its changed before any other people like me have to suffer. (Signed: One who has been through the experience.)

Question: What has one horn and gives milk?

Answer: A milk truck. (?)

What sounds better -5 and 3 are 7 or 3 and 5 is 7?

Neither. Because 5 and 3 are 8. (?)

Question: What is a bull called when snoring? Answer: A bulldozer. (?)

Question: How do you drive a noofie crazy?

Answer: Put him in a round room and tell him to sit in the corner.

The Habits of Millions - Ten Reasons Why I Smoke (by Reg. LaForme, T.F.C.)

1. It's such a clean, refined habit.
2. It makes my breath so pleasing to everybody.
3. It sets such a good example for children to follow.
4. It proves I have self control.
5. It makes my fingers and teeth so pretty and yellow.
6. It makes me look so manly.
7. I love to spit.
8. It starts fires, kills lives and destroys millions of dollars worth of forests and property. This is fun.
9. I want to see how much poison my body can take before I die.
10. It's my way of obeying God, who says, "Keep thyself pure. Touch not the unclean thing."

In 1912, cancer of the lung was the rarest of diseases. Since then deaths from this disease has increased 500%.

Soon, according to the medical profession, 1 out of 3 who die of cancer, will die from cancer of the lung.

Not until 1949, was smoking first suspected as the cause for the gigantic increase. In the U.S., out of 684 cases of lung cancer, only 5 were non-smokers. In England, out of 1357 proven cases of lung cancer only 7 were non-smokers.

A special study by the American Cancer Society, covering 187,000 men - both smokers and non-smokers - from various walks of life, 11,870 died. A careful study of the causes of death revealed that smoking definitely caused lung cancer and MANY OTHER CANCERS OF THE BODY and a surprising number of deaths from other diseases.

The study also showed that deaths from coronary artery disease was 70% higher in smokers who smoke 1 pack a day over non-smokers and even higher in those who smoked 2 packs a day. The greatest killer (51.2% of deaths) is coronary disease with the greatest cause of it smoking. The surest way to die a painful and premature death is to buy cancer by the pack.

"If any man defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy; for the temple of God is Holy, which temple ye are." 1 Corinthians 3:17.
