FIRST GAME OF FINALS A REAL DOOZIE

Hagersville - March 21, 1973

The Smoothtown Bruins and Sour Springs Spoilers first playoff game was the most exciting game of the hockey season. At the end of regulation time the score was tied 7-7. One 10 minute overtime period was played followed by two 10 minute sudden-death periods.

Both teams were evenly matched in skating, passing, checking and especially goaltending.

Both goalies are to be commended on their fine performance this first game despite the final score.

The first period was played in a mediocre fashion, the Bruins leading 3-1. Two Goals were scored by Bill Squires one assisted by Allan White and one by Rick Martin. Joe Hill scored the Bruins third goal assisted by Hat-Trick Bill. Cec Davis scored the Spoilers only goal this period the assist going to John Porter. The Spoilers were called on three penalties, the Bruins none.

In the second period 8 goals were scored and nine penalties were called. Cam Hill scored the first goal of the period unassisted putting the Spoilers back in the game. Other scorers for the Spoilers include Roger Miller assist J.P..

John Porter assist Cam Hill, Steve Miller assist Cec Davis. Cec scored the sixth goal assisted by Cam Hill. Bruins goals were scored by Rick Martin unassisted and Joe Hill scored two, one assist going to Terry Hill and one to Rick Martin.

The third period was intensified as the pressure mounted both teams determined to be the winner. Woody Porter was the first to get a goal assisted by Greg Fraser. The Spoilers seemed destined to win but Hat-Trick Bill put an end to their destiny. 8 penalties were called, five on the Bruins and 3 on the Spoilers.

Both teams had an opportunity to untie the game with both teams getting a penalty in the first 10 minute overtime period. In the first Sudden-Death overtime period Frank Montour received a penalty but the Bruins penalty killers were right on the ball as they stopped any rush attempted by the boys in red. The goaltenders really shone in the last two 10 minute periods.

Both teams decided to settle for a point apiece instead of playing any longer.

Bill Hill of the Spoilers was given a match-misconduct in the second period which eliminated him from the series.

Despite the several altercations which cropped up it was indeed a very good game.

SECOND GAME OF FINALS OPPOSITE OF FIRST

Hagersville - March 28, 1973

The second game of the finals played here Wednesday night was about as lop-sided as you can get. The Bruins trounced the Spoilers 10-6.

Butch Hill set the pace for the
