A Flea and a fly in a flue
 Were caught, so what could they do?
 Said the fly, "Let us flee."
 "Let us fly," said the flea.
 So they flew through a flaw in the flue.

GRANDPA DROPPED HIS GLASSES

Grandpa dropped his glasses once
 In a pot of dye,
 And when he put them on again
 He saw a purple sky.
 Purple birds were rising up
 From a purple hill,
 Men were grinding purple cider
 At a purple mill.
 Purple Adeline was playing
 With a purple doll,
 Little purple dragonflies
 Were crawling up the wall.
 And at the supper table
 He got crazy as a loon
 From eating purple apple dumplings
 With a purple spoon.

Insects Change Their Shape - A butterfly starts its life as a caterpillar from an egg laid on a milkweed plant. When it is fully grown it makes itself a soft green and gold bag, called a chrysalis, in which it goes to sleep. After a while the chrysalis splits open and out comes a butterfly.

Insects Are Weathermen - Bees can tell when a storm is coming. They then stop working and hurry back to their hives.
