MEN'S HOCKEY

OHSWEKEN....NOVEMBER 8, 1973

The B.C. Jets have proven they will not be pushed around by downing the S.S. Spoilers 5-2 in the first game of the evening played at the Six Nations arena in Ohsweken Thursday night.

How the Spoilers scored any goals at all was a wonderment in itself because the simple fact is the Jets skated circles around them to such an extent they did nothing but wobble around on the ice.

Dave Davey gave the Jets an early 1-0 lead in the first period 15 seconds after the game started. Cam (Ira Hayes) Hill had an excellent chance for tying the score but Jets' Vernon Vyse managed to overcome the threat imposed by Ira but he was too slow to shoot. Penalties were one for the Jets and one for the Spoilers.

The second period began at the 17:37 mark when John Montour assisted by Brian (Satch) Martin tied up the game. The Spoilers managed to hold the Jets down for a whole min. and 51 sec. before Jeff Fraser put them ahead 2-1 with the assist going to Les Johnson. Dave Davey widened the gap 3-1 for the Jets assisted by Brian Hill and Les Johnson was unassisted on his goal which apparently put the game out of reach for the Spoilers. Penalties were kept at a minimum with one going to each team.

Cec Martin led the Spoilers in their attempt at a comeback in the third period, assisted by J. P., however the Jets, determined to win by three goals were rewarded for their efforts by Roger Martin, assisted by Sy Johnson. Three penalties called each one going to the Spoilers.

I guess you've all read or heard about the father and son(s) combinations in the N.H.L. well the S.N.M.H.L. can boast of a similar situation with Carmen Porter and son Gary both playing for the Jets.

Professional Hockey has nothing over our teams when it comes right down to the nitty gritty. The second game of the evening more than made up for any display of inability and constant laxness shown on the part of players in the first game. Of course this was the game we were all waiting to see. The Bruins edged the Stars 5-4.

Butch Hill assisted by Gaylord Powless put the Stars ahead early in the first with one man short. Approximately five minutes later Joe Hill tied up the game assisted by Allen White for the Bruins. The Bruins were given ample opportunity to break the tie but the Stars penalty killers were just a bit too much for their power line in this period. Penalties called were 5 for the Stars and 2 for the Bruins.

The second period was indubitably the better of the two. Paul Henhawk assisted by Gaylord Powless broke the tie 2 minutes after the start of the period. Joe Hill tied it up unassisted at 9:50 and Larry Hill put the Bruins ahead 3-2 unassisted from the face-off.

Boyce White was given a 10 min. misconduct and a minor, his minor was served by Bill Montour. Other penalties were three for the Stars.

Rod Hill tied up the game in the third period, assisted by Butch Hill. Cooge Smith pulled the Bruins ahead at 12:41, unassisted, but 8 seconds later it was tied up again on a goal by Bill Green for the Stars. Twice the Stars scored to pull ahead but each time the goal
