

HOROSCOPE - What kind of Leader are you? - them as matters of the most importance. But to attain the leadership Leo naturally desires to express, Leo must ever keep in mind that he must consider first the needs of those he leads.

VIRGO - August 24 - Sept. 22

Virgo has a great memory for detail and a marvelous ability to pull things apart and find the weak points. This ability can degenerate into pickiness and hyper-criticalness if not watched carefully. As a leader, be careful you do not ask more of others than they can give - or then you can give yourself.

LIBRA - Sept. 23 - October 22

You want, as said so many times before, peace and harmony. You will be the mediator, the friend, the one who balances all opposing views in the effort to get everyone to work in harmony. You become a leader through your innate ability to handle people and bring harmony between them.

SCORPIO - October 23 - Nov. 22

Your sense of responsibility to duty is strong, and you will rise to a position of leadership because of your devotion to obligations. At times you can force those under you to what you consider their duty, pushing too hard. Your willingness to tackle any job, if it needs doing gives you the experience and a reputation few will match and many will admire.

SAGITTARIUS - Nov. 23 - Dec. 21

You have natural executive ability when you tie yourself to one given field. You are frank and open and are admired for it. You have a capacity to see the philosophy of a given situation or job and to guide people along the directions indicated. The challenge of getting to the top is almost more important than the arrival.

CAPRICORN - Dec. 22 - January 20

It may seem like a cliché, but if you want something organized, if you want a system or economy, ask a Capricornian to do it. The native, possessed with ambition, organizes the direction the life should go and systematically sets out to accomplish it. You can bring system from chaos, organization from disorder, economy from extravagance.

AQUARIUS - January 21 - Feb. 19

Your talents lie in your ability to get people to do the desired thing and your ability to grasp new ideas and to put them to use. Usually, these two work together to lead people into new areas of thinking. You become a leader as you forge ahead, leading others on by your knowledge of how to get them to do what is needed.

PISCES - February 20 - March 20

You have a versatility that is reminiscent to the other signs. This ability to adapt to any job and the ability to develop a rapport with others easily makes it possible to enlist the support and sympathies of a large number of people. You become a leader because your abilities give others the impression you are a person they can turn to in a time of need or even in matters of lesser importance.
