Dear Mrs. Jamieson:

Tekawennake is an excellent publication and a real source of information and communication.

Please allow me to hand out a bouquet to the education system, the devoted teachers and the excellent team of school authorities.

The results of their work on the Six Nations and New Credit is showing in the continued and increasing number of young people receiving higher education.

Honourable mention is also due to the Ohsweken Credit Union for its progress.

Last but not least, congratulations to the staff of Tekawennake.
