

Many of the pictures drawn by local artist, Tuck Johnson represent the relationship that Native people have with mother earth. The wolf is one of the nine clan animals which is said to represent strength and intelligence.

Other clan animals specific to the Six Nations people include: the bear, hawk, deer, turtle, eel, heron, snipe and beaver.

Mr. Johnson has recently been commissioned to do several drawings for the Pine Tree Native Centre, which is located in Brantford.

