

Alumni

Edward Donohue, '10, was united in Holy Matrimony with Miss Marie Agnes Hunt of Guelph, at St. Mary's Church, Guelph, Ont., April 24th, 1917. Mr. Donohue has been professor at St. Jeromes till a few years ago. He is now occupying an important position on the Editorial Staff of the Kitchener Daily Telegraph, Kitchener, Ont. The faculty, students and the Schoolman extend hearty felicitations to our late professor and to his happy wife and we wish them many years of happiness and prosperity.

John Raush, '14, has received a call to Sub-deaconship for Trinity Sunday, at St. Bernard's Seminary, Rochester. Congratulations John, our best wishes are with you.

In our heavy Canadian Casualty list we must necessarily expect to see familiar names. Lately mentioned, and Charles Lahey, '13, who has been wounded, both were James E. Lillis, '12, who has been gassed, and Charles Lahey, ex-'13, who has been wounded, both of Brantford. We hope that our old school companions will soon recover.

Some of our S. J. C. students at the Grand have been honored with a call to tonsure. We congratulate you friends and pray that you will persevere until you have your last call to Ordination.

Edward Ott and George Murray of the Class of 1912 will be ordained to the Holy Priesthood on June 2nd. Ed. Ott had a course at the University of Innsbruck previous to the war, when he returned home to continue his studies. We congratulate these men and pray that Almighty God will grant them the grace to live up to their holy calling and that they may persevere as true sons of the Church and their Alma Mater!

Joseph O'Brien is now physical director at Silver Lake Military School, from which he will graduate in June to enlist in the American Army. Congratulations Joe-

We are sorry to hear that Bob Smith has been compelled to delay his studies again for a year. Keep up courage, Bob, we are hoping for the best yet.

Thomas Glancey of Eganville, Ont., was unfortunate lately, and has been compelled to undergo an operation of the throat. Tom is wielding the pedagogical office in his home town. We sincerely hope that he will soon recover and be able to continue in his noble and meritorious profession.

With the close of the scholastic year of 1917 eleven more sons of St. Jerome's will depart from their Alma Mater. Each one of us has a path open for us and also a duty and obligation to perform. Let us always remember whence we came and actuate the principles we have learnt during our stay under the fostering care of St. Jerome's, and never shall we forget it. Let our class motto illumine the path of duty for us and let us follow it: "Quidquid agas agere pro viribus."

Joseph J. Diemert, '17.

