BODY IN LAKE PARTLY EXPLAINS DISAPPEARANCE

Sad Ending of Young Widow Woman In Haileybury.

Haileybury and district were much excited and alarmed last week by the sudden and mysterious disappearance of Mrs. Evelyn Murphy, a young widow woman of 20 years of age, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angus McCauley of Haileybury. The young woman's husband died from the "Flu" last year, and she had been employed at Judge Hayward's home as a maid. Her two young children resided with her parents and she was in the habit of visiting them at least daily. For about eight days she failed to call at the home of her parents, and enquiry showing that she was not at Judge Hayward's, considerable anxiety was felt and the services of the police were requisitioned in the hope of locating the young woman. It was learned that the last seen of the young woman was one evening some two weeks ago when she was in the company of Charles Epplet of New Liskeard who was understood to be taking her out occasionally. The following morning Epplet called at her parents' home to enquire for her. To the police Epplet explained that he had left her at Judge Hayward's on the evening in question and that he expected she had gone into the house after he had gone away. A continued search for the young lady failed to bring results. It was thought that perhaps she had come up to Timmins to visit friends here, but enquiry showed this not to be the case. Suggestions that she might be visiting with other friends elsewhere also proved as unfounded. Against all the theories as to visiting, etc., was the fact that the young woman had taken no clothes with her and had also neglected to communicate with her relatives, as seemed natural to her character and disposition. There were all sorts of theories and suggestions as to the cause of the disappearance and the facts behind it. The fact that the young woman was highly esteemed by those who knew her added to the interest and to the anxiety. Part of the mystery was cleared up on Friday afternoon at about 4 o'clock when the police dragging Lake Temiskaming recovered Mrs. Murphy's body from the waters. The

FORMER SPRACKLIN MAN ACQUITTED OF WOUNDING

At Haileybury last week Stanley Hallam, a former member of the Rev. Spracklin liquor squad, was found not guilty of wounding Telesphore LeBrun of Cochrane. The case was before Judge Hartman in the District Court and arose from an incident in the work of Hallam while he was stationed at Cochrane. LeBrun claimed that Hallam unlawfully wounded him, the evidence in the case being similar to that in the two cases against LeBrun who was acquitted on charges of resisting arrest and escaping from custody. In his defence Hallam told of placing LeBrun under arrest, and said he fired the shot to frighten LeBrun who was attempting to escape. LeBrun was shot in the leg. As Hallam is now acquitted of the charge there seems to be an end of the matter, the cases arising having been before the public for several months.

NEW TENNIS COURTS NOW IN USE AT FAIR GROUNDS

The fine new tennis courts at the Timmins Athletic Grounds are now all completed and in use. There are two very fine courts, and they are being well patronized by the members of the Timmins Tennis Club, which club had the courts constructed for their use. The courts are at the southeast corner of the Athletic Grounds, and do not in any way interfere with the grounds generally. Other athletics may be in progress without in any interfering with the tennis, or the tennis interfering with the games. For instance, on Friday evening some tennis devotees were busily engaged in a tennis match while the football game between Timmins and Iroquois Falls was in progress. The Timmins Tennis Club, which is affiliated with the Timmins Amateur Athletic Association, now has a large membership, and a big pleasant season of tennis for Timmins is confidently expected.

discovery was made about 200 feet off shore and in about 10 feet of water. A coat found on a nearby dock and later identified as belonging to Mrs. Murphy induced the special search of the water at this particular point. Mrs. Murphy, so far as the evidence shows, was last seen on the evening of June 1st. She leaves two little lads, aged 2 and 4 years respectively.

"LITTLE MISS REBELLION" HERE MONDAY AND TUESDAY

At the New Empire Theatre on Monday and Tuesday next the "special Special" is Miss Dorothy Gish in "Little Miss Rebellion," something new and particularly pleasing in the line of romantic comedies. If you doubt this, just read some of the chief scenes in this comedy, and remembering that Dorothy Gish is "The Duchess," just think whether there will be fun and humor and laughs, or not:—
 1. A sentry box outside the palace gate. A tall grenadier walking his post. Suddenly he snaps to present arms and yells at the top of his voice, "The duchess comes! Turn out the guard!" There is a crash of metal and sweep of horsemen. The officers' sabres flash to salute as a forlorn little girl walks by, dragging a doll behind her. The duchess has passed.
 2. The duchess, escaping unobserved from her guards, encounters a nautch in a little woods. She tries to mount him—and the fun begins!
 3. Coming upon a gang of American an doughboys playing baseball, the duchess joins the game. Her first time at bat, she cracks out a home run.

 4. The duchess sneaks away from the palace to attend a jazz ball with Sergeant Dick Ellis, A.E.F. She is the belle of the evening until her scandalized ladies in waiting arrive and take her back to the palace.
 5. Peering over the palace wall and seeing a couple of doughboys shooting craps, the duchess puts dots on two lumps of sugar and induces the dignified grenadier, her personal body guard, to "roll the bones" with her.
 6. The duchess is chief flapjack mixer in the window of a Childs restaurant in New York City. Sergeant Dick Ellis, just out of the army, recognizes her through the window. A joyous reunion follows.
 Four jet-black bears have recently been seen on more than one occasion and by more than one sober person in the vicinity of Iroquois Falls. Other kinds of bears also seem to be in evidence in numbers near the Falls this year.
