FARMER'S GOVERNMENT CAMPAIGN LITERATURE

The Ontario Government Public Service Bulletin, when Mr. A. T. Wilgress was King's Printer for Ontario, was a very creditable and helpful publication. It was what its name implied a "Public Service Bulletin." It had the remarkable faculty of disseminating information without being partisan. It was impartial in fact almost judicial in its tone, and so its information regarding legislation and other special Provincial matters was of particular value. But times change, and Governments change. The latest issue of The Public Service Bulletin is to hand and it reads like campaign literature for the Farmer's Government. It is accompanied by a circular letter from the Premier, Mr. E. C. Drury, in which the Government (alias Mr. Drury) says: "Herewith I enclose a carefully prepared official synopsis of the Legislation enacted at the last session of the Legislature. Much of this legislation is of real importance to the Province, but cannot reach the Public in its final form during the Session when so many measures are under consideration. The Government has therefore had this synopsis prepared and I trust it may be helpful to you in placing before your readers accurate information as to any measures you may consider of special interest to them."

Throughout the "synopsis" are such slightly hidden compliments to the Government as: "By this measure it is hoped to increase substantially the revenue of the Province and to obtain for public convenience much desirable information." "An additional appropriation of $5,000,000.00 is made for development work in northern and northwestern Ontario, the work of this department having been greatly extended during the past few years." "The most notable contribution to Hydro-Electric legislation is the bill which was introduced at the close of the session." "The new bill will provide a simpler and broader method, while not involving any great expenditure." "The Mothers' Allowances Act has been broadened." "The financial provisions made for all branches of education should ensure progress in this most important subject." "A great step in advance along the line of town planning was made." "Oh, yes, Reginald, it is the dinky little campaign book the dainty way it is written. When the wicked Tory Government wanted to send out this type of campaign literature, the Tory party had the stuff printed at the party's expense. The equally wicked Grits handled it the same way. The good Farmers' Government, however, have a better way. The country is paying the shot for this campaign literature to show what a wonderful Government the Farmers' Government really is and all that they are doing for the country. Oh, yes, Reginald.

Of course, to make this campaign literature effective, some slight liberties had to be taken with the straight truth. For example, read this one and only paragraph regarding "Mining": "Important amendments were made to the Mining Act, chiefly with the view of assisting prospectors. (The cursing of some of the real prospectors may be heard through to Toronto when they read that sentence.) The number of days' labour required on a mine claim was reduced from 240 to 200, and the time for performance was lengthened to five years. (This is an injury to the real prospector, though some help to the speculator in claims. The real prospector wants to do his work on his claims to develop them. Also the real prospector finds doing assessment work for absentees a material source of income.) The number of free assay coupons authorized for each mining claim, staked out by a licensee on his own behalf, was increased from two to twelve. (Well, thanks for that, says the Prospector!) The jurisdiction of the Mining Commissioner was enlarged to include patented mining lands." (That last is certainly a genuine benefit to the mining industry in general. All will admit that. But out of four pulsating sentences it is the only one worth credence. The Mining Commissioner knows his business and enjoys the respect and confidence of all.)

Of course the comments in brackets above are not in the Ontario Public Campaign Sheet. They are too flat-footed in their statement of truth for that. As a campaign circular the Bulletin is a good one, and it doesn't cost the Farmers Party anything. That's the best of it. As the Premier says, "More Revenue, More Revenue!" There's a reason.

Sincere sympathy will be extended to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fowler, 14 Birch street, in the death on Wednesday morning of their infant son, William Fowler, who passed away following an attack of dysentery. The funeral took place on Thursday at 1 p.m., interment being made in Timmins cemetery. Mr. Fowler is the caretaker at the Timmins Public School.

$4,800 IN LIQUOR FINES
AT THE FALLS LAST WEEK

In the police court at Iroquois Falls last week Magistrate Atkinson imposed fines totalling $4800 for breaches of the O.T.A. The offenders were all from the Wye, all had foreign sounding names, and the easiest fine was $300.00 and costs. Three men each were fined $1000.00 and costs. There were a number of other more or less interesting cases. Juliet Martin, alias Mrs. Scullino, was sent down for 6 months for vagrancy. Mike Ayoub was fined $10.00 and costs for an infraction of the early closing by-law. For throwing a bottle at a barber at the Wye a man was fined $10.00 and costs or 30 days. The bottle was empty of "Oh be Joyful!" Geo. Lubicic was fined $50.00 and costs for beating a horse with a chain.

TIMMINS BUSINESS COLLEGE TO OPEN HERE AUGUST 22

Timmins is to have a business college of its own for the training of young men and women for commercial work. The Timmins Business College will open here on August 22nd, the quarters probably being in the Ansara block on Third Avenue. The whole upstairs will be used and will undoubtedly provide handsome and commodious accommodation for this latest of the educational institutions of Timmins. The Ansara block was recently occupied by A. Brazeau plumber, and L. E. Dorway, tailor. The building has been greatly improved and re-decorated.

The new business college, to be known as the Timmins Business College, will be in affiliation with the Sudbury Business College, and will be under the same ownership, that of Ellen M. Terry. The Sudbury Business College has been in successful operation under the one ownership and principalship since 1915. Timmins should offer a good centre for this type of training and the establishment of the business college here should (to use an expression never used before, perhaps) "fill a long-felt want."

BREACHES OF TRAFFIC LAWS FEATURE OF COURT

The feature of Thursday's police court was the number of cases regarding the use of the roads and streets for auto, rig, dog, hen and cow traffic. For breaches of the new traffic by-law Mike Hill, A. Robitaille, D. Pierce, G. McIntosh, and J. W. Reed, were each fined $1.00 and costs, the fines being made nominal on this first occasion. John Graboski was fined $10.00 and costs for allowing a child under 16 to drive a motor car. E. Poitras did not answer to the charge of a breach of the new traffic by-law, being out of town. John Stewart for allowing one of his dogs to be at large in town, contrary to the by-law, was fined $5 and costs. For allowing cows to run at large, contrary to the laws made and provided, Pete Sardino, D. Nora, M. Shub, and M. Parker were each fined $5.00 and costs. For allowing hens to run at large F. Holusky and Willis Popes each paid $3.00 and costs, while Geo. Romerom was fined $5.00 on account of his hens and his attitude. Chickens may safely use the streets, provided they are the right kind. Wm. Gagne for illegally piling lumber on the streets was fined $10.00 and costs, the charge being laid by the Town Engineer. A single drunk, Kust Hill, was fined $10.00 and costs, and no doubt Kust his luck, or blessed it because the fine was not any more. A couple of young fellows, charged with disorderly conduct through fighting on street, were each fined $1.00 and costs and advised to behave in future. While the number of cases was large, as will be noted they were not of special importance except as showing that the police are seeing to the enforcement of town by-laws for the protection and convenience of the people.
