IROQUOIS FALLS RE-ELECTS
MAYOR AND COUNCILLORS

Iroquois Falls re-elected the Mayor and Councillors by acclamation as follows:—Mayor John Vanier, machinist; Councillors James Brown, millwright; Patrick Kennedy, electrician; Franw K. Ebbitt, Secretary; Edward Kely, foreman; Arthur Brewer, superintendent; Patrick Cannon, millwright.

BAKE WAGON DRIVER ACCUSED OF THEFT

A man who formerly was driver for Candusso's bakery was arrested here last week and is being held on a charge of theft. It is alleged that while acting as driver he collected a number of accounts, perhaps to the extent of $400.00, and failed to turn in the money. The people who paid the money had receipts and when these receipts began to be produced, investigation followed. The accused some time ago left town and was working in the bush near Connaught. Last week he came to town and was then picked up by the police. He will come before Magistrate Atkinson tomorrow.

MANY CASES FOR POLICE COURT HERE THIS WEEK

Police Court here this week will be a busy place, there being a large number of cases to come before the Magistrate. Most of the cases are in connection with undue drunkenness, but there are also some more serious charges. The police were very busy during the holiday time, but could not, of course, allow rowdy work or rough house stuff. Several who insisted on the rough stuff or who were absolutely incapable of navigating were picked up during the week. There are also other cases ranging from theft to breaches of the O.T.A. to be tried.

FOUGHT THE POLICE TO RESCUE THE DEAR BOOZE

The police had a high old time Monday evening when they raided the premises of W. Peters who recently opened a new store at 66 Fifth Avenue. The police got inside and found a glass and a jug with what they thought was Oh-be-Joyful. While carrying the liquor downstairs the Chief and Officer McCauley were both set upon by some of those in the house. The jug was smashed to atoms, but Chief Greer saved the glass and its contents. A keg of wine was found in the cellar and seized. The ladies in the house gave their men every assistance apparently in obstructing the work of the police. But, as usual, the police get the best of it in the end. W. Peters is now in the Hotel de Greer awaiting trial on a charge of having liquor illegally. Mike Latuski is to face charges of being drunk and obstructing the police, and the ladies of the men in question may also be asked to respond to charge of abstracting the police.

P.O. WINDOW SIMPLY BROKEN BY ACCIDENT

One morning last week at an early hour the window of the post office was broken. It is thought that the damage was done by the town snowplough, the handle of the plough probably banging against the window in passing. At any rate the big window was broken all right and the accident occurred about the time the plough went by. The plough, however, shares the possible blame with a horse that was running the roads and particularly the sidewalks the morning of the accident. The accident gave rise to a story that the post office had been broken into and robbed. This is an illustration how the imagination of some people can be started off. There was no robbery and no one even tried to enter the post office through the window, except the snowplough or the horse referred to.

CALEDONIANS HAVE VERY PLEASANT CHRISTMAS TREE

There were over a hundred enjoyed the delightful Christmas Tree event at the regular meeting of the Caledonian Society in the L.O.O.F. Hall on Friday evening of last week. The children particularly had a happy time and the event from beginning to end pleased them immensely. There was a Christmas Tree with gifts on it for all, not one missed.—Santa Claus arrived in person to distribute the gifts,—there was a delightful programme furnished chiefly by the children,—and there was the usual excellent supply of good things to eat. The programme was remarkable for its high excellence throughout. It included well-rendered recitations by Jessie Watt, Annabel Murdock, May Moore, Master Adamson, Clarke Robertson, Patsy Murdock, Geo. Dewar, Stuart Dewar, Winifred Wilson, Master Croskery; charming little songs well given by Annie Jean Scott, Fordyce Scott, Maisie Roberts, Margaret Easton, Rosina Mair, Maisie Muskett; piano selections that showed decided talent by Edith Haughland, Maisie Roberts; a pleasing duet by Maisie and Robby Roberts, Maisie cleverly playing the accompaniment. Miss Giffin assisted in the success of the evening by her good work at the piano. Mrs. Croskery and Mrs. J. R. Todd also contributed to the programme by interesting and effectively-given recitations appropriate to the occasion. Mr. M. B. Scott, the president, occupied the chair and conducted the gathering with his usual diplomacy and efficiency. The evening was especially the Children's Evening, and the youngsters one and all had a delightful time. In the pleasure of the children and the fine programme of the evening the older folks also enjoyed themselves very much. The Caledonian Christmas Tree accordingly may be set down as a complete success and a very pleasant evening.

ONLY TWO "REMAND" CASES AT THURSDAY'S COURT

Magistrate Atkinson had an easy day last Thursday at the police court here. It was a regular Christmas Week Special. There was not a single case brought before the court for the week, the only cases to be dealt with being two cases remanded from previous weeks. One of these was the case again Joe Gilbert, charged with beating his wife. Gilbert was committed to stand trial on the charge before a judge. He is now on bail awaiting the trial of the other court. The other case was that of M. Hern, charged with attempted rape. In this case considerable evidence was heard, some of it of conflicting character. The accused who strongly maintains his innocence was remanded again until this week. He is out on bail of $1000.00.

CLAIMS "FAKE" REPORT USED AGAINST COMPANY

The so-called "Timber Probe" instituted by the Farmer Government has lost its interest for the fair-minded public. The enquiry for a time promised much of interest to those who labour under the impression that all politicians are rascals and all companies and corporations thieves and rogues. The charges of "crookedness," however, do not seem to have been maintained by the evidence submitted, though quite naturally some of the "mud" thrown will stick, even without any conclusive evidence. All this is a detriment to the pulp and paper business, with apparently no compensation, unless political propaganda can be considered as helpful. Interest in the apparently political probe was revived last week when Commissioners Riddell and Latchford were constrained to refer to "treason" and "treachery" in regard to some of the evidence already submitted. The matter arose when G. C. Hurdman, formerly Crown Timber agent at Sudbury, charged that a "fake" report in connection with the checking up of the Spanish River Pulp and Paper Company had been made by Sam Marks, a Government employee. The alleged fake report, which was unfavorable to the Company had been prepared for Robert Harding, former Crown Counsel in the Timber inquiry: The commissioners, particularly objected because neither they nor the then Crown counsel, Mr. Harding, had been informed by Hon. Beniah Bowman, Minister of Lands and Forests, or Niven or Hurdman, that the report had been faked. Mr. Hurdman said Marks was entirely incompetent to make a survey. He had made a survey of some burnt timber areas of the Spanish River Lumber Company's and faked the report for Mr. Harding. "I had a man watching him and knew he faked the report," Mr. Hurdman asserted.

OF CHRISTMAS NUMBERS

Whatever Iroquois Falls attempts it usually does unusually well. Iroquois Falls brings to every task a wholeheartedness, a thoroughness and a loyal pride in the town that practically always means something out of the ordinary. So true is this that to know that Iroquois Falls is going to do something,—whether it be in sport, or business, or dramatics, or just "boosting the town,"—is to expect something special. Anyone who expected something special in the way of a Christmas issue of The Broken Hustler, Iroquois Falls' own newspaper, will not be disappointed. The Illustrated Broken Hustler issued for Christmas week is a credit to Iroquois Falls and to all concerned, and will prove a delight to all who may be interested in the Big Paper Town of the North Land. There are 16 pages of beautiful printed photographs of people and places in connection with the Falls. Brief but illuminating headings give added value to the pictures. The Town Council, the Board of Trade, the Executive Council, the Science Club, The Theatrical Club, the G.W. V.A., the Horticultural Society, the Unions, the Fraternal Societies, the Churches, the athletic clubs and sports, the ladies' athletic clubs, the Fire Brigade, the School Board and the Teachers,—all are pictured in this handsome illustrated number. Printed on calendered paper in pleasing tint, it is a number that everyone who knows anything of the Falls will treasure as a most acceptable souvenir.

On the front page is a message of greeting that is well worth reproducing. This message reads:—"From the Community of Iroquois Falls to Its Friends Everywhere. Greeting. We have faith in this wonderful North Land, the land of vast forests, of immense mineral wealth, of unlimited agricultural possibilities. We have faith in the manhood and womanhood of the North and their ability to develop its resources. Confident in the future, we wish to you and yours a happy Yuletide, and may the new year, and every new year, bring to you greater happiness and a larger measure of prosperity."
