Their many friends and the Advance wish them a long and happy life.

Up to the present time fourteen Oddfellows of the South Porcupine Lodge have enlisted to serve their King and Country. One of these men is serving with the Borden Battery another with the American Legion one with the 20th Battery and five with the 15th regiment, four of whom have taken the Lieutenant's course, and another six with the 2nd Pioneers. This is indeed a very good showing for the South Porcupine Lodge and we are proud to remind the public that they are doing their bit in the hard struggle.

A recruiting meeting was held at the Majestic Theatre on Saturday evening and four new volunteers enlisted in the 159th regiment. Mr. Howard Barton was in charge of the recruiting. Mr. R. Reeve Dickson acted as chairman and the meeting closed with all singing God Save the King.

GET WISE IN TIME.

Why not get wise in time? Why wait until it is too late? People all over the country, north, south, east and west, are getting wise to the ruinous results of out-of-town buying. Thinking people are now refusing to patronize out of town houses. Are you going to wait until we are a "most back" community before we "get wise"? Let us spend our money in building up something that is ours. Patronage of home business means the building up of a strong industrial community of our own. Neglect of home business interest means the building up of a machine that will one day crush us without mercy. Let us build for ourselves and for our friends and neighbors. Let us get wise before it is too late.

The five-part photoplay entitled "The Boss" will be shown at the Empire Theatre on Friday and Saturday, February 18th and 19th, with Alice Brady and Holbrook Blinn in the star parts.

Michael Regan is of Irish descent and a born fighter. This fighting instinct helps Regan to success. He becomes first of all, a bartender, then a saloon proprietor. Two of his best friends are Sullivan and McCoy. They have been boys together. Sullivan becomes a priest, and Porky McCoy becomes Regan's right hand man.

Regan goes in for politics. He is so busy up mortgages. His power increases as his field of labor widens. He begins to gain the monopoly of the grain-shipping contracts, which before his advent had been under the control of Griswold & Son, an old established firm. Old John Griswold and his son are on the brink of ruin. Regan has two sides to his nature. The man of iron, hard, merciless and a grafter, and the man who feeds the starving, would give his life for his friend and delights in the smile of a child. While visiting and helping the poor, he meets and loves Emily Griswold. In his hard fighting life he has seen little of women and Emily becomes his ideal.

When the situation of the Griswolds becomes desperate, they ask Regan to visit them. He comes and gives them relief, through an amalgamation of interests. When questioned as to his reason for this leniency when he has everything in his power, he tells them he wishes to try to win Emily for his wife.

Emily and Regan marry, but her brother, full of hatred for Regan, becomes an agitator, and rouses the men to strike against his brother-in-law, Regan. Things become really serious now for Regan. Scanlan, the workmen's delegate, comes to see Regan lay down the terms that young Griswold has dictated to them. When Regan laughs and defies them Scanlan becomes abusive. Regan is in a jam and he falls. Regan is in a jam and he falls. Regan is in a jam and he falls. McCoy comes to him with an offer to take the blame and give himself up.
