 FINANCIAL CONDITIONS, GA-THERED AT FIRST HAND FROM ALL PART OF CANADA

After the December season a falling off in business is usual, but this year throughout the entire Dominion the change is not very evident. For staple commodities there has been a steady demand, which taxed existing domestic stocks and resulted in very much larger imports. Prices all around have remained firm and changes are in an upward direction. All classes of labor are fully employed and wages are being increased. In some industries and districts there are already indications of a labor shortage, which is likely to be accentuated in the spring months when the usual demand arises for additional farm help. High prices for all kinds of farm produce will stimulate agricultural operations and the consequent demand for labour.

Crop Movement and Transportation

Severe winter weather interrupted the delivery of grain to the railways and the conveyance of grain in store to winter ports, the latter being at present either without adequate facilities or severely congested. At the close of navigation stocks at Fort William and Port Arthur were reduced to 10,000,000 bushels, and on January 15th the amount in store was 46,753,386 bushels as compared with 21,823,582 bushels at the corresponding date a year ago. A considerable amount of grain is being sent to Duluth. From Fort William the all-rail shipments approximate 200 cars daily. There can be no free movement of grain or flour for export until the congestion at eastern ports is relieved. In the farmers' hands there is still approximately 40 per cent of the crop, which will be offered for delivery as soon as the weather and car supply improve. Higher grain prices have caused more selling by farmers although there still exists an inclination to hold.

Foreign Trade.

December imports as compared with those of a year ago, increased approximately $15,000,000, and according to preliminary estimates the volume during January exceeds that of the same month a year ago by approximately the same proportion. The Department of Customs reports imports into Canada for the calendar year ending December as being valued at $450,640,000; and exports for the same period were $652,067,000.

Live Stock and Products.

To the United States there has been an undesirable movement of young cattle, the demand for which from that quarter has caused prices to advance materially. From Quebec a large number of young cattle have been exported. According to the United States returns the value of live cattle imported from Canada during the first ten months of last year was $8,884,579, as compared with $6,623,092 during the previous year. This, of course, covers beef as well as young cattle, but the proportion of the latter is considerable in spite of the large stocks of feed available in the Dominion.

Exports of animal products continue to show increases, especially in those articles which find a market in the United States. According to the official returns of the Department of Trade and Commerce, Washington, the value of furs and wool bought from Canada has increased very substantially. From the fox farming districts in the Maritime Provinces, United States buyers have secured large consignments. The demand for the pelts of the animals raised on the ranches in Prince Edward Island has made that industry profitable under existing conditions when the capitalization is reasonable. For the first ten months of 1915 the value of furs exported from Canada to the United States was $2,172,567 as compared to $1,630,000 in 1914. Exports of wool to the same country have increased by approximately $550,000.

The deliveries of cattle and hogs at central points in Canada during 1915 approximated those of the previous year. In the East there is a slight decline but in the West an increase. Prices during the year have been up to the average and at present are high, especially for hogs, which bring approximately $9.75 per 100lbs. live weight. The demand for young stock in Canada, particularly in the Canadian West, indicates that efforts to induce farmers to adopt mixed farming to a greater extent are bearing fruit.

Industrial Conditions.

Towards the more favorable trade balance the increasing exports to the United States are also an important factor. For the first ten months of last year to October 31st, Canadian returns show a total of $186,611,481 as compared with $151,256,466 for the same period of 1914. Imports from the United States will, having regard to the exceptionally heavy purchases made during the last two months of 1915, approximately reach the same total as in the previous year.

The larger steel plants have orders on hand for large shells that will keep them fully employed until February, 1917. Other forms of ammunition required of steel working plants, and at present on order, will sustain very general activity until autumn.

In the textile trades the domestic demand is increasing, but increased difficulties exist in getting raw materials and labor. Some important war orders are almost completed, but the mills handling them find that bookings for spring delivery will keep their plants moving at full time.

Western coal mines, as a result of the exceptionally cold weather in January, were pressed for larger deliveries and the only limitation to these was the available car supply.
 Considerable rolling stock had to be diverted from the grain to coal carrying, as supplies on hand at many centres were dangerously low.

In hardware lines there has been heavy buying by jobbing houses and the larger retail stores. This is due to low stocks generally. In builders' hardware lines inactivity prevails.
 Nails and other staple lines are steadily advancing in price. The stove and furnace industries are more active, prices being higher because of the higher cost of raw material.

Banking and Finance.

According to the Department of Labor the index number, representing wholesale prices in Canada, rose to 162.4 in December as compared with 158.6 in November and 137.6 for December, 1914.

The revenue of the Dominion Government in December was $17,271,- 516 as compared with $9,167,940 in 1914. For the same period the ordinary expenditures were $9,123,952 as compared with $9,942,985 in the previous year. For the nine months of the fiscal year to the end of December the ordinary revenue amounted to $122,027,821 and the expenditure to $74,469,455; capital outlay reached $113,118,691, of which $85,748,898 was in connection with the war. In December the expenditure for war purposes was $19,000,000, and the total of such expenditures since the commencement of the war to December 31st last amounted to $146,499,- 374. On February 1st an instalment of $20,000,000 of the Canadian War Loan fell due. A very considerable portion of the whole loan, however, has already been paid in full.

Deposits in Canada during December increased $23,726,194 to a total of $1,144,680,651, or approximately $200,000,000 more than when times were normal; circulation declined $1,- 954,103 to $122,199,582; commercial loans declined $1,644,616 to $775,- 517,949, and call loans in Canada increased $1,024,268 to $84,288,155.

Statements issued by banks, insurance companies and other financial organizations continue to be of a satisfactory character on the whole, particularly those with a large proportion of their investments in the bank of farm mortgages. Fourteen banks have issued their annual statements within the past few weeks. Profits are somewhat less than in the previous years, being for 1913, $14,772,- 352; 1914, $13,724,867 and in 1915, $12,352,823. In the addresses delivered at the annual meetings of shareholders there is a reassuring note, but emphasis is placed upon the need for economy and increased production.

Final returns from 46 Canadian cities show building permits issued in 1915 amounting to $34,566,588 as compared with $97,648,405 in 1914.
