NARROW CALL FOR MAYOR WILSON

One of the Thiel Constables Shoved Gun Against His Breast and Pulled the Trigger

Mayor Wilson came very near getting what was not coming to him during the mix-up and shooting by the Thiel constables on Monday. One of the detectives was pumping away into the crowd as fast as he could pull the trigger when Mr. Wilson grabbed him and turned him around from shooting into the crowd. The fellow turned and pulled the gun into his stomach and pulled the trigger, but fortunately it was empty of loaded shells and the chief did no harm instead of possible death.

The detective was knocked down and held until the police put the man under arrest. It was a narrow call and shows what men with a gun will do under press of excitement.
