TIMMINS SCHUMACHER SOUTH PORCUPINE

Timmins News in Brief

The Women's Auxiliary of St. Matthew's church will meet on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Rectory.

The New Victor Records for August have arrived and we are anxious to have you call at any time to hear them. The L. Stadelman Co. (near the station) Timmins.

There is a growing agitation now on in Coburne for the appointment of a night constable. This follows a series of burglaries committed in the town in recent nights.

The report that Provincial Officer Ackroyd was to be moved at once to South Porcupine seems to be a little premature. "It's news to me," said that Officer this week, "I have heard nothing of it officially as yet."

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. McLaughlin, with some friends, are now on a motor trip through New York State. During the absence of the Mayor, Councillor A. Brazeau is at the head of municipal affairs as Acting Mayor.

On Sunday Constable Greer found Wm. Costello acting in undesirable fashion on street, and on Monday the latter pleaded guilty to being drunk on street, contrary to the town by-law, and was fined $10 and costs by H. E. Montgomery, J.P.

According to the decision arrived at by the members of the D.Y.B. Club at their last regular weekly meeting there was no meeting of the Club this week. The D.Y.B. will meet regularly however, next Monday, August 6, at the home of Mrs. M. A. Ellis.

Constable Greer arrested Panas Bezubez late Saturday evening for acting too much on street like the day before the yesterday after tomorrow morning's evening—that is, all mixed up. Before Justice of the Peace Montgomery on Monday Bezubez was charged with being drunk in a public place and was fined $15 and costs.

Good progress is being made on the construction of the new hotel building on Third Avenue, opposite the Empire Hotel. This new hotel is to be a modern structure with up-to-date fixtures and finishings. Part of the material used in building it is from the former Kingston hotel at South Porcupine. Mr. Jas. Hazeltor is putting up the building.

Three women of undesirable type, who have been living in a house on Station street, have recently been annoying the good people of the neighborhood by the noise and rowdyism created at unearthly hours of the late night and morning. Several complaints having been made to the police, the latter gave the undesirable a few hours to leave town, and consequently the neighborhood has been freed from the nuisance, the women moving away from town even before the hour set by the police.

Acting Chief Sally and Constable Greer were returning from the depot one evening last week when a citizen approached them and told them that there was a fellow stretched out in a shop doorway down Third Avenue, "completely dead to the world." "I'll soon pick him up," said Constable Greer. "It would be better if you both would come," said the citizen, "as it may not be as easy to handle this case as it seems." The two policemen hurried down street with the citizen, who eventually brought them to the doorway where the difficulty lay. "There he is," said the citizen. Constable Greer rushed towards the doorway, and then hesitated as he saw what he was expected to tackle. As the Constable retreated Acting Chief Sally jumped forward boldly. But he too seemed afraid of the job. The two policemen looked at each other, lowered their voices for fear of rousing that sleeping form, and stepped further backward to confer. Just then they noticed Provincial Officer Ackroyd up the street. "Get the Provincial! Quick!" they whispered to the citizen. "This is a job for him. We don't like it." And they fled across the street to the dark refuge of a doorway. Down the street came "D'Beeg Police," his heels clicking bravely on the hard walk. "Sure, I'll pick him up," he said. The citizen led the Provincial to the doorway. "There he is stretched out, dead to the world," he said. The Provincial looked for a moment as if he too would shirk the contract. Then he shrugged his broad shoulders. "I'm game," he said, and he stooped down determinedly. In a minute the big form of the big policeman straightened up without apparent effort, and he had the sleeping form securely in his arms. It was a four-year-old Jewish lad who had gone to sleep in the doorway.

The Town Council will hold their regular monthly meeting on Monday next.

Mr. W. R. Cowain, formerly of South Porcupine, is now with the Imperial Munitions Board. He is at Trenton, Ont.

The Pas Herald, of the Pas, Manitoba, last week says: "H. M. Paull, representing an English syndicate interested in the mineral development of our northland, who has been in town for a few days past, departed east on business by to-day's train."

Mr. Thompson, employed on the Government Roads at Elk Lake, had his skull fractured last week by the kick of a horse. A special train was used to bring the injured man to New Liskeard hospital, as an operation was found to be the only means of saving his life.

With its usual desire to cater to the comfort and convenience of its patrons and to maintain its standing as one of the most up-to-date theatres in Ontario, the New Empire last week set a half a dozen electric fans going to keep the place cool and pleasant.

Harold Woods, now of an amateur team in Toronto, and who was a backstop for the Cobalt baseball team in 1904 when he was well known in the North Land, is to be given a trial on the Maple Leafs, Toronto's professional ball team. Woods is looked upon as an unusually good man behind the bat as well as a good hitter.

On Wednesday afternoon last about 4.30 the fire brigade had a hurry call to 45 Fifth Avenue and made their usual prompt response. The fire was caused by a basket of clothing and odds and ends catching fire. Mr. Sezure is the owner of the place, and he sure was lucky in the neighbors who were able to notice and get the blaze under control even before the brigade arrived. Between $20 and $30 will cover the damage done.

Mr. J. Pierce, of Winnipeg, is visiting his son, Councillor Chas. Pierce. Mr. Pierce, senior was one of the pioneers of the Osbow, Sask. district, and had a useful and noteworthy part in the settlement and progress of that district. Though many years past the allotted span of life given by the palmist, Mr. J. Pierce is still active and energetic in mind and body, and brighter than many men half his years.

Mrs. Ralph W. Robbins entertained about thirty ladies at her home on Friday afternoon with a novel and enjoyable box covering contest, each guest contributing for the Red Cross. Votes for the best looking finished box were taken. First choice won by Mrs. Ostrosser, and second by Mrs. Ennis. A beautiful bag and handsome box were given as prizes. Delicious refreshments were served, and about twenty-five dollars, the total amount collected, was turned over to the Red Cross Society by Mrs. Robbins.

Will the alien enemies learn after a while to observe the few easy rules and regulations imposed upon them by this easy country and its easy laws that allow them practical liberty and freedom of action? Perhaps. But if not it will not be the fault of Acting Chief Sally who is taking reasonable precautions to see that they live up to their undertakings. Last week R. Pentescu was before Mr. H. E. Montgomery, J.P., charged with not reporting and was fined $10 and costs. Nika Takusta, of Tisdale, for a more flagrant indifference to the duty of reporting was fined $15 and costs. Martin Armbruster, being an alien enemy and failing to register, was fined $15 and costs. J. Kravel, who came from Creighton Mines, and who failed to report here as required, was also fined $15 and costs. There were two other similar cases this week. There is a three-fold benefit about these prosecutions; they help to protect the country and the country's laws; they give the alien enemies a more correct conception of the duty they owe to this land; and they help to put a few dollars in the town's coffers, as the fines go to the municipality. In view of the fact that all alien enemies who have been fined so far for violating their agreements by not reporting have been of the class that avoid the payment of taxes, etc., and contribute little if anything to the common good, it is pleasant to think that the lessons they are learning now are also helpful in contributing to the town treasury.

FIVE LIQUOR CASES FOR THURSDAY'S COURT

In Addition to Two Remands. Provincial Officer Made Quick and Clever Work in One Case.

Every one in a while the breaches of the Ontario Temperance Act seem to break out, and then the police, town and provincial, get specially busy to make repairs. At the police court this week, for instance, there will be no less than five new liquor cases, in addition to a couple of other cases left over from last week.

On Sunday morning about two o'clock Constable Greer visited a local house that the police have "had their eye on," and arrested Frank Tomchenks on a charge of having liquor in a public place. Tomchenks had some liquor inside him and practically a full bottle with him when arrested.

While returning from South Porcupine by auto one evening last week Provincial Officer Ackroyd did some quick and clever work in landing a case and the evidence. He saw near Schumacher a trio of men in a buggy. The horse looked tired and hungry and abused, and the trio appeared joyful but thirsty. The Provincial saw them in the act of drinking from a bottle, but when he called to them to stop they threw the bottle into the lake and "beat it." Then started the race. The "Big Police" hustled back to the lake and rescued the bottle which he had watched fall at the side in the cyanide slime. It had no cork but he happened to fall right side up with care, and with the cyanide on the outside and the booze inside it should make good evidence. Then Provincial Officer Ackroyd hastened after his men. He had to run along to town before the road was wide enough to turn. Then he went right by and stopped the auto right in front of the men. In a minute he was out and was arresting the men, one, two, three, though they put up a sort of resistance. Two of them will be charged with being drunk in a public place and the owner of the bottle will face the more serious charge of having liquor in a public place.

Another case landed by the Provincial is that of a Schumacher Austrian. This alien had a big store and house, half of which is rented as a rooming house while he used the remainder for his own dwelling. As the place is connected and all under one roof, it seems to be a public place in the meaning of the Act, and as liquor was found therein it is "up to the Austrian."

Chief Roy, of South Porcupine, also has a case against a man for being drunk on street, contrary to the regulation of the Ontario Temperance Act.

PROMISING OUTLOOK

"It appears that some of the veins in Howard Falls district, while exceptionally rich, were small, and did not bear up as to values. There are about 1000 claims staked in the district of Kowkash. Most of these are near Tashota, and, judging from the formation, which is very similar to that of Porcupine, the veins on the whole being stronger, there is every likelihood that a few good mines may be developed."

Mr. Lett tells of the kindness of Section Foreman Wells to the prospectors, looking after their packs, etc., and how in return they staked a claim for him, which he later sold to Mr. John Orn and associates for $25,000. A shaft is down 130 feet on the Tash-Orn, and the average values are $14 per ton. The ore on the dump is valued at $100,000.

On the Ross claim, owned by the Trethewey people of Cobalt, has a large vein traced for 1000 feet and 100 feet wide in places. The average assay runs $12.00 per ton.

Mr. Lett refers to visiting the Devaney and other claims, and thinks that Tashota may yet turn out as rich even as the Porcupine.

ABOUT TWELVE CLAIMS STAKED IN NEW FIELD

Big Rush into Rickard Township But Few Stayed.—On Account of Circumstances.

The sensational discovery of gold near Twin Falls in Rickard Township ten days ago started a big rush for the district, but only a few prospectors stayed after going in. This was due to the circumstances and conditions surrounding the new field and not to any lack of faith in the richness of the find. Indeed, the shrewdest of the old-timers are agreed that the new field is an unusually promising one. There is much free gold showing and every reason for believing that the ore body is both rich and large. The formation is the same as in Munro Township,—the home of the now famous Croesus mine,—and there seems to be a general opinion among the old-timers that the Rickard Township find is a continuation of the Munro gold belt. No work has yet been done on any of the properties staked, not even a shovel being yet in use, the prospector's pick serving as the one investigating and exploring tool. But as one prospector worded it: "The signs are there all right, boys; the signs are there sure!"

The reason that the rush of prospectors to the district was not followed by a rush of claim staking was because there is a limit to the number of claims that could be staked under the circumstances. In the first place there are a number of Veteran grants in the locality, and of course these are not open for the ordinary staking. Then to the east lie the lands reserved by the Government for flood lands for the big Abitibi dam. These lands, too, are not open in the ordinary way to the prospector. Also, the condition of the ground in various parts of the locality prevent intelligent staking.

Only about twelve claims have actually been staked so far near the original find. The original stakes were made by three Finlanders,—Messrs. Raty, Gillan and Hongo. They have staked eight claims, including one for Wilfrid Foster, merchant at Kirkland Lake. In addition to these eight claims, other claims have been staked by Messrs. Morrison, Carr, Maiden and Croteau. Messrs. Graham and Perkins have also staked a couple of claims about a mile from the locality of the original find.

This new gold field in prospect, usually termed now the "Twin Falls" or "Rickard" find, is about 9½ miles east from Iroquois Falls and about 4½ miles from Twin Falls on the Abitibi River. Miners and prospectors are agreed that it is one of the most promising finds of the North Land.
