Timmins News in Brief

Mr. W. Armstrong, of New Liskeard, was a business visitor in town during the week-end.

The Skating Rink is preparing to open up as soon as the ice is ready, which will probably be this week.

Mrs. J. D. Allan returned on Friday from Toronto where she has been visiting her mother.

Mining operations have started this week at the Whelpdale. The compressor is going and underground work is under way since Monday.

Mr. Arthur Pooley has left for Torbrook Mines, Nova Scotia, to attend the funeral of his father who died suddenly on Saturday last.

Rev. J. Macdonald was in Haileybury this week as a witness in the cases against E. A. Gentile, Mr. Macdonald being the clergyman officiating at the marriage that caused the cases.

The Military Medical Board will sit again in Timmins on Thursday and Friday of this week to examine any in Class 1 who have not yet been examined.

The Mattagami River froze over solid last week. The ferry managed to keep a channel open for a time and plied back and forth, but even this channel is finding the weather too swift for its continuance. The channel says it cannot talk back to the weather and so will close up.

Mr. Jack Nolan left last week for his home in Memphis, Tennessee. He had received word of the wounding of his son who was serving on a United States submarine chaser. According to the report received the young man had lost both arms as a result of injuries received on active service, but no particulars were to hand.

The sight of many travellers walking up the side of the railway tracks in town on Monday morning, lugging packs or suitcases and trudging along in the snow and cold, reminded many of older days in the Camp, when walking was the chief mode of travel and railway service was no better than it is now sometimes. The trouble on Monday morning was that when the train from the Junction arrived near town it was blocked by a small wreck that had occurred to a freight. Rather than wait in the train for the wreck to be cleared away, the most of the passengers got out and walked the few hundred yards between them and the station.

A teamster hauling lumber from the river Monday evening noticed what he thought was a house on fire at the foot of Fourth Avenue. He at once made his way to the Fire Hall and turned in an alarm. The Brigade made a very prompt response, but once again it turned out that their services were not needed—the fire being only some stumps that a householder was burning up. The man turning in the alarm, however, did exactly right, for it is always better to be safe than sorry, and any chances taken should be always on the right side in this country that has suffered considerably from fires.

Last week Cobalt Red Cross sent away a shipment of 101 cases containing nearly 73,000 articles for the soldiers. This makes a total of 2191 cases sent by Cobalt Red Cross. It is certainly a most creditable patriotic record for the Silver City. In the 72,664 articles forwarded last week were included:—62184 handkerchiefs, 3546 pillow cases, 1912 personal property bags, 1374 towels, 1183 triangular bandages, 571 suits pyjamas, 432 pairs socks, 244 filled comfort bags, 203 day shirts, 162 unfilled comfort bags, 139 sheets, 166 filled housewives, 15 pair heel-less bed socks, 85 convalescent robes and many other useful articles.

Lieut. J. E. McCuaig, formerly Mayor of Haileybury, and well-known throughout the North Land, is now with a Forestry Draft in France. In a very interesting letter to a friend in this North Country, he mentions a number of North Land men now serving with the Forestry and Construction units in France. Walter Paul is a bush foreman; Duifell is Quarter Master Sergeant; Carmichael is Transport Sergeant; McMillan is a corporal. Lieut. McCuaig says the Draft is now in a region where the trees were planted by "a chap named Napoleon." He says they have all kinds of timber in France, but that they have been careful of it, as is the thrifty French way. Lieut. McCuaig thinks the war cannot last much longer. "The worst, he believes, is over. As he puts it:—It cannot last much longer, and anyway they all tell me that the first seven years are the worst."

The man Lenchuck, who was committed for trial from here for unlawfully having gold in his possession, was this week fined $200 and costs or two years in prison, at the fall assizes in Haileybury. Lenchuck was arrested in Montreal some months ago and brought back here for preliminary trial. At Haileybury this week he pleaded guilty.

The charges against E. A. Gentile for abduction and obtaining a marriage license under false pretences were before the fall assizes court at Haileybury this week, but have not yet been concluded. Gentile's case against Tony Salvador for assault with intent to do grievous bodily harm was recently concluded, Salvador being found guilty but allowed off with a fine of $100 and costs, including Gentile's hospital bill, etc.

BIG CHURCH BAZAAR WILL HELP SOLVE CHRISTMAS PROBLEMS

Byrnes Presbyterian Church Ladies Aid Again Running Interesting Event.

The Ladies Aid of the Byrnes Presbyterian church, who conducted so successful a bazaar last year, are again this year holding a similar event and expect that it will be even better than last year. The event will open at 3 o'clock on Friday afternoon, Dec. 7th, in the basement of the church, and it is believed it will prove a veritable boon to those in doubt about what to buy for friends and relatives this Christmas. The bazaar will have suitable gifts for father and mother, sister, brother, wife and the kiddies. Much of the fancy goods is hand work of the best type. Another special feature will be the home baking for sale. There will be special booths for "Soldiers," "Kiddies," "Aprons and Handkerchiefs," "Fancy Work" and "Home Baking." Another feature will be the Tea Room.

IROQUOIS FALLS DOING WELL WITH VICTORY LOAN

The Town of Iroquois Falls seldom starts anything that it does not do especially well—from a reception to a Governor-General down to a Labor Day Celebration. As usual, Iroquois Falls is more than "holding up its end" in regard to the sale of Victory War Loan Bonds in the district. Up to Monday of this week over $27,000 worth of bonds had been sold in the Big Paper Mill Town, and this without touching the Company or the management. The $27,000 was secured simply from the workmen living at Iroquois Falls, and there are still many who will yet respond. In addition there are the "big fellows" to be counted upon, and as they all respond generously at the Falls a large subscription over the allotment may be expected from Iroquois Falls.
