THE COMING GENERATION.

The stealing this week at Moneta of a large sum of money by a lad of ten or twelve years of age, and the peculiar circumstances in connection with the case, again direct public attention to the pressing need for more care and thought for the rising generation. It is not fair to lay the whole blame upon particular parents who may be singled out for the moment through some delinquency of their children. The truth is that the whole tone of the Camp is to blame in the matter. The few thoughtful and earnest parents are more than heavily handicapped by the general inattention to the training of the children. The parents of a boy or girl have a difficult time here endeavoring to train their child to do right when all his or her chums do as they please. When youngsters are at least not discouraged in loitering around at places and times most unsuitable for children,—to say the least,—then the authorities can do little to assist and the better class of parents are seriously handicapped indeed. What is needed here is a general awakening among the parents as to their duties and responsibilities. The parents in general must do their duty, or they and their children and the country will all suffer.

BOXING BOUT PROVED BIG DISAPPOINTMENT.

There was a big crowd at the theatre Thursday evening to see the advertised boxing bout between Young Sampson, the Strong Man, and Prof. Morrow, and practically everybody present was deeply disappointed, many being so to the point of profuse profanity. Young Pete was so sore at being "stung again," as he called it, that he swore a perfect stream for a solid hour. He stood savagely at the Imperial Bank corner and among other sarcastic things, he said:—"You never know how many fish there are in town until you stand here and count them as they come out from such a bout." When he learned that some were going home by crossing the railroad tracks he wept and went to his room. He was one of many.

The ten-round bout between Samson and Morrow was stopped by Chief Wilson in the third round, Morrow having received all the punishment he could conveniently carry. Morrow very evidently knew more about boxing and sparring than Samson, the latter being aptly described in his own words as a "Syrian Slugger." Morrow's blows had no effect on Samson, while the latter's slugging soon put Morrow out of the running. Samson's weight and strength made the contest an unequal one from the start. After the stopping of the bout Morrow had a black eye and a badly bruised face, in addition to his percentage of the house. Jack Faithful refereed the bout. Dominion Police C. O'Connor, who acted as second for Morrow, offered to try a round or two with Samson, so as not to altogether disappoint the crowd. This was the one bright feature of the sad evening for the crowd. O'Connor in the first round, though handicapped by the weight of his opponent and the fact that he himself was not dressed in ring togs, gave the Syrian a lively time, and had the weights been more nearly even would undoubtedly have trimmed the Strong Man. As it was he had it all over Samson for points and put up a clean and lively little "out all through. He stayed for two rounds, but not being in training and being handicapped by his heavy clothing, he was a little winded by this time and so decided that he had given enough for the occasion. Samson was interviewed by the police after the show as to his standing under the Order-in-Council requiring every man to be engaged in honest and useful work. Samson left town on the early morning train on Friday. The band was not out to see him off.

CAPT. BAILEY TO SERVE SENTENCE "UNDER LICENSE"

The Department of Justice at Ottawa last week announced its action in the case of Capt. Dr. Bailey, formerly of Cochrane. Dr. Bailey was convicted and sentenced to three months in jail for remarks derogatory to the soldiers and injurious to recruiting. The remarks were made at a big Temperance Rally in Toronto some months ago, and were to the effect that he was told that the most of the soldiers were drunk at Christmas time in France. After Magistrate Denison had sentenced Dr. Bailey, his solicitor asked for right to appeal, and this being granted the Doctor was admitted to bail in the meantime. Then a move was made to secure clemency at Ottawa. Two weeks ago at Toronto a judge gave Capt. Bailey only a week to secure clemency or pardon, or commence to serve his term. The decision at Ottawa is not in the form of a pardon, nor is the conviction upset. According to the Ottawa decision, Capt. Bailey's conviction and sentence still stand, but he is allowed to serve the term "under license." This means that he supposed to serve the three months, but "under the license," he does not need to go to jail, and even does not need to report daily to the police as he would if released on parole. In view of the treatment accorded some alien agitators in Canada recently, it is felt that Capt. Bailey has not been treated any too lightly in comparison. He has suffered very much, no doubt, from the publicity, and is perhaps sufficiently punished for his careless remarks. The incident has done much good in erasing wild talk of the kind.

OVER $160 STOLEN BUT MOST RECOVERED AGAIN.

Early Monday morning Mr. Ed. Malick, grocer, Moneta, found that someone had taken $166.65 from the safe in his store. The door of his store had been unfastened and the safe shut but not locked. There was no clue to the thief. Constable McInnis was notified and at once got busy and by good work had not only secured the culprit but had recovered most of the money before night. It was found that there was considerable money floating around among the Moneta school children. When Constable McInnis and Chief Wilson investigated they found one lad with $25, another with $30 and others with smaller amounts. Then the full story came out. A lad of ten or twelve years who has been in similar trouble before entered the store, opened the safe and grabbed a handful of money, stuffing it into his blouse. Then he went out and "treated" his friends. The lad, who is now on probation, will come before Magistrate Atkinson on Thursday. Constable McInnis has already recovered more than $130 of the stolen money, most of the children being quite ready to be frank as soon as they understood
