THE WAR NOT OVER YET.

The tone of the wildly enthusiastic demonstrations and celebrations in the last few days seems to indicate that there is a general popular opinion that the war is all over, the victory is won, and everything will automatically revert to the agreeable conditions prevailing before 1914. The war, however, is still some distance from being truly won. It is true that a truce has been declared and that actual battle has ceased. It is true that Germany is reduced to such straits that any resumption of actual warfare is most improbable. But there are great difficulties now to be faced, and patriotic effort and thought instead of being lessened should be increased. The Armistice will mean no truce in the food shortage in the world, nor in the coal famine in Canada. There is no truce declared in this land's indebtedness for war purposes—the Victory Loan is more needed than before. All the soldiers of the Allies overseas must be returned to their homes and established in peace and prosperity, with fairness, justice and generosity of treatment. The ravaged countries of Europe must be repaid and rebuilt, so far as humanly possible, even though this means the virtual enslavement of the German people for a generation. Russia must be restored to law and decency. Guilt must be punished before the world. Sympathy must be reserved for the millions of innocent sufferers in the unoffending nations. There is not a particle of tenderness to spare for the Huns or their breed. The world must re-adjust itself to peace conditions with only righteousness and the common good in view. All this must yet come before the war is truly won.

It should not be forgotten that what the brave soldiers have won on the way to victory may be lost by the profligate statesmen. Already, an amendment to the Armistice provides for the feeding of Germany during the truce. The world shortage of food means that food restrictions will be necessary for a year or more, but it is too much to ask civilized people to go on short rations to help feed the Huns. Mercy for criminals should not be at the expense of the innocent. There are stores of just such tendencies to be avoided by the world before the war is truly won. The war will not be truly won until only RIGHTEOUS nations evoke sympathy and tender consideration. Enough of them need it, Heaven knows.

CELEBRATED TRUCE THREE DAYS TOO SOON.

There was an enthusiastic impromptu celebration here on Thursday night, reports coming in during the day that an armistice had been signed with the Huns. It was useless to suggest that the report was probably a little premature; the people were sure that the end of the war was near and they sure did celebrate. The fire bell and the whistles went to it, the fire team came out, autos, rigs and men, women, children paraded the streets. The Italian Band led the music and everybody and everything made a joyful noise. All the flags in town stores were sold out. All the people seemed to go wild with enthusiasm at the coming of victory after four years of stress. There was a big parade here Thursday evening. The town was wide open. Nearly everybody had a big time. After parading, some of the crowds went to the Empire Theatre where Sergt. George Smith, who served overseas with the Highlanders, took charge of the meeting. Short speeches were given by Councilor Chas. Pierce, Pte. Gilbert and others. The speeches had to be short, however, for the crowd wanted noise and celebration not addresses. Piper Bennett and the Italian Band furnished lots of music during the evening. It was a big night all right, all right.

Cobalt, Haileybury, New Liskeard and other North Land towns also celebrated Thursday night on the strength of the premature reports. But so did Toronto and other big cities where the people went simply wild. In Haileybury, however, they had three celebrations of the Truce, having a celebration of their own on a false report on Monday night of last week.

NEW PASTOR FOR THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Rev. J. D. Parks, of Toronto, accompanied by Mrs. Parks, reached here on Saturday last. Rev. Mr. Parks has taken charge as pastor of the Byrnes Presbyterian church in succession to Rev. Mr. Irwin who leaves to-day for his new charge on the Transcontinental with headquarters at Hearst. Owing to the Influenza epidemic there has been no service in the church for the past few Sundays, but it is expected that in a week or two the services will be resumed as usual. Rev. Mr. Irwin has made many friends here during his half-year's pastorate of Byrnes church, and all will wish him success in his new field. Rev. Mr. Parks was recently inducted as pastor of the church here, after spending the summer in the West.

NURSES AND OTHERS HONOR LATE MISS LAURA KEON.

On Tuesday of last week there were innumerable evidences given of the special sympathy stirred by the death of Miss Laura Keon, the brave young nurse who died here on Monday last after spending her strength in the work of caring for others during the early days of the Influenza epidemic. On Tuesday evening the body was removed to the station ready for sending in the morning to her home at Sheenboro, near Pembroke, for interment. A group of local nurses, led by Mrs. Lawlor, preceded the cortege in their nurses' uniforms and carrying a large silk British flag, kindly loaned for the occasion by Mr. Leo Masciolo. A number of friends and citizens also followed the coffin to the station. The remains were taken East on Wednesday morning's train, the young lady's mother, Mrs. Keon, returning to Sheenboro by the same train.

THE HAILEYBURIAN'S SURE CURE FOR PNEUMONIA.

One of the best old friends of The Advance wrote recently suggesting that the eating of green onions was a sure preventative of Spanish Influenza. Then last week The Haileyburian comes along with a sure cure for pneumonia, which is the chief danger growing from the Influenza. The Haileyburian says:—Take six to ten onions, according to size; chop fine; put in a large spider over a hot fire; then add about the same quantity of rye-meal and vinegar enough to make it a thick paste. In the meantime stir it thoroughly five or ten minutes, then put in a cotton bag large enough to cover the lungs, and apply it to the chest as hot as the patient can bear. When it gets cool apply another, and thus continue by heating the poultices. In a few hours the patient will be out of danger. Usually 3 or 4 applications will be sufficient. Continue always until perspiration starts freely from the chest. This simple remedy has never failed cure pneumonia, it is said. It was formulated many years ago by one of the best New England physicians.

The Advance passes this on to the chance that it may be all claimed for it.

ALIEN ENEMIES MUST CONTINUE TO REPORT.

Monday was reporting day for the alien enemies in Timmins, the regular day—the 10th.—falling on a Sunday. A number of the aliens duly reported on Monday, but on account of the big celebration orders were allowed to defer making their monthly report until Tuesday. The signing of an armistice with the Huns makes no difference in the necessity for the aliens to report. It should be remembered that while all understand that the present truce is but the preliminary to a lasting peace to be dictated by the Allies, still PEACE is not yet actually here. There is a truce only. The alien enemies must continue to report until legally relieved of this easy regulation. This will likely be a year or more before the alien enemies are relieved from this small measure of restriction. Alien enemies in this country have been treated with a leniency that would have been ridiculous had it not cost the country so much in lives and disturbance of the peace. Allied subjects in enemy lands have not received very decent or kindly treatment, but that will now be dealt with. The alien enemies here, however, have had such a fat and happy time during the war that if they neglect the few piffling regulations placed upon them they should be severely dealt with. Indeed, it might not be a bad idea in the interests of the country and in dealing with the large alien element in Canada to continue the reporting system with enemy aliens for some years after the war. Most of them have wrong ideas that need watching and curbing. They have not even had the experience of their kin overseas,—personal suffering and want,—to teach them better. They have been unusually safe and prosperous during the war. They are the only element either here or in Europe not suffering personally from the war. In any event they should be specially watched from now until official freedom is tendered them to see that they duly respect the very easy law in their behalf.

LAST WEEK OF THE BIG SALE AT BUCOVETSKY'S.

This is the last week of the big bargain sale at Bucovetsky's, and, as will be noted by the full-page advertisement in this issue, everything will move out if cut prices will move goods and the success of the sale so far has shown that bargains do appeal to the people. Mr. Bucovetsky has to give up possession of the store next week to the Curtis Drug Co. who have purchased the building and will move in at an early date. Consequently, Mr. Bucovetsky wishes to get rid of all the stocks, and is accordingly offering them at sacrifice prices rather than move them. Mr. A. C. Clark, of Toronto, is in charge of the sale, and everything is planned for a "glorious wind-up" as the posters say. The sale ends November 16th.

MAY BE BIG POLICE COURT HERE TO-MORROW.

It's not known definitely whether Magistrate Atkinson will be sufficiently recovered from his recent illness to hold court here to-morrow. If he is unable to come the cases will all be remanded for another week. If he is well enough to come, however, he will have a big docket. There are a number of plain drunk charges waiting trial, with several more unusual cases. Among the latter may be mentioned those accused of having objectionable literature, a case of alleged abortion, a charge of obtaining money by fraud against an Italian who is said to have sold a charmed garter for goddly sums of money to certain women in Moneta and Timmins, and other cases. There are some who think that the signing of the armistice with the Huns might mean the dropping of the cases against the aliens charged with offenses under the War Measures Act. Outside of the fact that the signing of the armistice does not in any way affect this country, it should be remembered that the offences were alleged to have been committed while the war was going full blast, and any breach of the law should not be allowed to pass unpunished. The War Measures Act and the regulation based on its powers are still in force and effect, and likely to remain so for several months at least. The trial of those accused of Bolshevism will go on and if the men accused are found guilty it is likely that they will be severely dealt with.

THE HEALTH SITUATION.

(From the Broke Hustler.)

We are now reaping the benefits of the precautions we took some three weeks ago when we were threatened with the ravages of the "Flu" epidemic then raging all over the Dominion. Of course it may be possible that we are not yet out of the wood, but with a continuance of the machinery we have at work we think we can hold the disease from gaining further headway.

As we go to press we have a total number of Hospital cases at 7, and six of these are normal, and could have been discharged to-day had the weather proved favorable.

Our adult cases in the homes amount to 14, to which we must add to day 4 cases among the children. This makes a total of 25 cases all told, as against some 75 which we were handling in the three hospitals on the 19th, ult.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Swayne returned last night from their wedding trip to the south and will leave on Friday for their new home in Iroquois Falls.

The death took place last week at Pottsville of Mrs. Robt. Kirk, mother of Mrs. Geo. Bannerman. The remains were taken east for interment.

Mr. J. F. Ladbroke received the sad news last week of the death of his brother at the Front. The dead soldier had been engaged in the dangerous and trying work of despatch riding since almost the beginning of the war.
