

The Gold Camp is Going to Boom!

With the discontinuance of the world war, there will be an inevitable boom in the gold mining industry. The nations must have gold to stabilize their finances. Gold will be increasingly in demand for industrial and other purposes. More normal conditions in the labor and materials markets will make even the low-grade mines profitable again. This camp, with its rich high-grade properties, will boom as it never boomed before.

Whether you will profit or not to the fullest extent depends upon you. If you wish to share in the big paying business that is possible in this hustling camp, you will get in touch with the people at once through

The Porcupine Advance

the paper that reaches the largest part of the people of the camp. An advertisement in this paper, if backed up by the right methods, the right goods, and the right prices will prove a gold mine for the capable advertiser.
