WILL BACON BE CURED BY THIS NEW METHOD

Bacon Case at Police Court and of Course, There's a Woman in the Case.

On Sunday, March 16th, George Bacon, an Austrian or Roumanian, left his happy home and went to Gregory Capra's and got in a card game there. He got in more than a card game. He got into a mix-up with Mrs. Mary Capra that landed him in jail and brought him before Magistrate Atkinson on Thursday last to answer to a charge of assaulting Mary. Perhaps it is not the first time that George has been playing cards on Sunday, but maybe the present hot time will cure Bacon. Bacon and another alien named Buckebuck, or some other kind of chuck, were jointly charged with assaulting Mrs. Capra. Both pleaded not guilty, and then followed a series of Austrian stories under oath. One Austrian swore that Bacon called Mrs. Capra a foul name. Another swore that she was the one that used the abusive language. One witness said he saw Bacon knock the woman down by striking her in the face. Another said that it was Mary that slapped Bacon. "Did she hit him hard?" one of the lawyers asked. "Well she did not sore me!" replied the witness. "Mary started the row," said one of the witnesses. "I am always afraid of a woman," said another Austrian in explaining why he ran away when there was apparently a fight going on in which a woman was concerned. Mrs. Capra's story was that she had ordered Bacon and the others to stop playing cards in her house for money. Bacon had called her a bad name in the Roumanian language, (and that must have been awfully bad for even an ordinary Roumanian name sounds dreadful). Then Bacon had smashed her in the face, she said, broke her finger and took $11.00 that she was carrying in her hand. She followed him downstairs to try and get the money back or have him arrested and he had smashed her again. "He hit me in face, head, all over over, with his fist," she said, "then he hit me every where, all over, with his foot again." She suffered much and was not the least bit pleased. Bacon himself said that Capra had been in the game and had won and gone away. Mrs. Capra came along and hit him (Bacon) in the eye. She had tried to scratch his face. He had pushed her away, but claimed he did not hit her. She had hung on to him, hung on so hard that she had torn a big piece out of his $50.00 overcoat. "I am scared of a woman," he said, as he told of running away so recklessly that he fell down the whole flight of stairs. Before he could get up she had come down and grabbed him again. "You can't beat me," is what he said she said over and over again to him. The evidence generally was more than usually conflicting. There were, however, two unprejudiced and dependable witnesses—Mr. A. Courtemanche and Dr. Melnis. Mr. Courtemanche saw part of the trouble. The woman was hanging on to Bacon and the latter had pushed her away with his hand. The woman's nose bled apparently as a result, but on the other hand she would not let go of Bacon until her husband had asked her twice to quit. Dr. Melnis gave evidence to show that the woman's face was bruised as if by a fist and she showed symptoms of being cuffed and kicked. J. E. Cook summarized the case to the effect that the woman was the aggressor, while J. A. Devaney argued contra. The Magistrate repanded judgment for a week.

Gregory Capra was charged with gambling as a result of the above case. He said he went up to stop the game and sat in for only a minute or two. "A queer way to stop the game," commented the Magistrate, fining Gregory $20 and costs—$24.50. Chief Cus. Melnis had a charge against John Pruiet for travelling from Quebec without a permit, being an alien enemy. John was fined $25 and costs—$29.50. Nick Lisbeck, for unlawfully taking delivery of liquor shipped concealed, was fined $200.00 and costs, or 6 months in North Bay. This was the case secured by Officers Moore and Allen a couple of weeks ago. Frank Lachappelle, charged with being drunk, did not answer when his name was called. It cost him all his bail money, $25.00, for the fine and costs. The case against A. Lalonde was remanded for a week. A number of cases of defaulters under the Military Service Act were also remanded for a week, as was also a charge against Mrs. Mary Capra of keeping a gaming house. Her medical attendant said Mrs. Capra was too ill to appear.

Miss Laura Poitras has been spending a few days with friends at Kirkland Lake.

SUDBURY HOCKEY TEAM JUST "KIDDED" LISKEARD

According to the last issue of The Sudbury Star New Liskeard's famous hockey team was badly "kidded" on its recent visit to Sudbury. In the first game New Liskeard won by a score of 6 to 4. But the second game on the following night, the score was Sudbury 16, New Liskeard 2. "The trouble is that New Liskeard did not know they were being well used, and kidded themselves into believing they were worth something extra as an attraction," says The Star, which claims that New Liskeard team "held up" the Sudbury team for fifty dollars before they would go on the ice the second night, and sooner than disappoint the crowd gathered and go back on what was advertised the Sudbury team "came across." They proceeded, however, to get $50.00 worth of revenge. In the last part of the game goals were actually scored at the rate of one each minute. The goal tender even rushed out with the puck and took it through New Liskeard's forwards right past centre ice, to the enjoyment of all the Sudbury fans. The big score, according to The Star, lost New Liskeard games at the Canadian and Michigan Soos, these games being promptly cancelled by telegraph after the 16 to 2 score was known. The Star says the New Liskeard boys were "smothered, swamped, buried, under an avalanche of goals," though they were supposed to be the "undefeated champions of all the district from North Bay to James." The Star claims that the first game was not "sold," or simply to encourage the betting or anything like that, but that the Sudbury team just tried to give the visitors a close, clean, courteous game, with the advantage to New Liskeard. The $50.00 touch apparently was the sore spot. "If Manager Epplet thought his team worth fifty dollars before the second game," says The Star, "he wouldn't give a good Canadian nickel for it afterwards."

MUSHED 1,100 MILES WITH INSANE INDIAN.

The romance of the work of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police has recently been considered as something of the more stirring past, but even today strange and dramatic tales may be truthfully told of the incidents and adventures taken by the men of the force as part of their day's work. One such story comes now from the Pas, Manitoba, Sergt. Thompson, R. N. M. P., arrived at the Pas last week from Trout Lake, near Hudson Bay. He had come about eleven hundred miles by dog team, with a violently insane Indian lashed to the sleigh. The Indian had run amuck and caused considerable damage and danger at the Trout Lake Mission. Sergt. Thompson was sent to capture him, and he made the capture after some difficult and dangerous work. Then he started for the Pas, with three dog teams and three Indian guides. Two of the Indian guides and two of the dog teams found the heavy blizzards and the necessary breaking of trails too much for them and they gave up and quit south of Port Nelson. Sergt. Thompson continued the journey with the one dog team and the one Indian guide. The dogs were weak from scarcity of food and the hardships of the trips. The Indian guide also granted acknowledgement to the suggestion that the trip was more than enough for him. Sergt. Thompson would admit no more than that it was "all in a day's duty." The Sergeant broke trail and faced the worst of the trip in every way, yet he was not even frost-bitten, while his prisoner and patient had also been protected and cared for in every way.

WANT QUEBEC TO OPEN UP THE ABITIBI COUNTRY.

The Chambre de Commerce, Montreal, is urging the Quebec Government to open up and colonize the Abitibi districts in the Province. Last week at a meeting of the Chambre de Commerce the necessity for further railway facilities to increase colonization was emphasized. Mr. Hector Authier, a former Mayor of Amos, gave a short address and dwelt upon the necessity of building a branch line of the Transcontinental Railway from Montreal to Amos. The main line now runs from Quebec to Amos and thence to Cochrane and the great West. Mr. Authier pointed out the commercial advantages to the city of Montreal, as well as the benefits to Amos and the Abitibi country generally and to Cochrane and points west provided the line was built from Amos to Montreal.

Cochrane Great War Veterans Branch is growing in numbers and importance. The inaugural public meeting of the Cochrane Branch will be held to-morrow (Thursday) evening, and will be addressed by Comrade Turley, of Toronto, who will explain the aims and objects of the Association.

As Old as his Arteries

The doctor can't help it. He knows that the man has hard arteries, high blood pressure, and beginning kidney and heart disease, due to long neglected chronic constipation. It isn't the other man's fault—directly. He's only 45—but he never realized that his constipation was a serious thing. He never knew how to treat it. He has taken bushels of pills, gallons of castor oil, mineral waters and salts, which have battered and tortured his alimentary canal from one end to the other; and he wonders why his health keeps getting worse. He doesn't know that his food waste has poisoned him, and has bred disease that is going to "get him" before his time. Nujol is for just such a man—for every person whose bowels do not move easily and thoroughly at regular intervals—especially for those in advancing years whose body machinery will not stand rough treatment. Nujol softens the accumulated food waste in the large intestine, and moves it gently out of the system, carrying those poisons with it, which, if allowed to remain, cause over 90% of human illness. Nujol supplies the lubrication that Nature can't supply as age begins to make itself felt. This man might have known in time—but Nujol is new—the accepted modern treatment for constipation. You can avoid such a misfortune as his. Get a bottle of Nujol from your druggist today and send for free booklet "Thirty Feet of Danger" expressing clearly the soundest medical authority on constipation and self-poisoning.

Warning: Nujol is sold only in sealed bottles bearing the Nujol Trade Mark. At all druggists. Insist on Nujol. You may suffer from substitutes.
