Timmins News in Brief

Mr. Poirier, formerly manager of the Porcupine Vipond, was a visitor to the Camp over the week-end.

There are twenty-one cases at the Non-Jury sittings of the District Court at Haileybury this week. Among the cases from the Porcupine is the case of Township of Tisdale vs Bertrand.

Among those returning last week on the Olympic from overseas service was Mr. S. A. Wookey, formerly manager of the Schumacher Mine, who went to France with an engineering corps. Corp. J. Carey also returned on the Olympic.

Mr. John Dickson, formerly a popular member of the Hollinger Engineering staff, but who enlisted for service with the U.S. Army and was recently honorably discharged from that service, returned last week to the Camp and will likely take up residence here again.

It is necessary to remark that Mayor Dr. McInnis is of Scottish decent—for otherwise he might be accused of being Irish. In introducing Councillor Peter Wright to the audience in the New Empire Theatre on Sunday evening the Mayor suggested that an introduction to Timmins was hardly necessary, because "his fame has followed him here long before he came himself."

Corporal J. Carey, prospector and old-timer of the Porcupine, who has been overseas for King and Country since early in the war, returned on Monday afternoon and was given a hearty welcome back to the Camp by his many old friends here. He was given the formal civic welcome at the station, being met by the Mayor and other members of the Reception Committee.

The Centennial Fund Social Evening given by the Timmins Oddfellows after their lodge meeting last night for brethren of the Order proved a delightful success. The program was a pleasing one, including songs and other music, refreshments, etc., and a pleasant smoker. Over $40.00 was netted for the Fund for the widows and orphans of deceased brothers. This amount is marked as being a contribution given in the name of the members of the Lodge now overseas, and is in addition to the regular contribution from the Lodge members here.

Mr. S. Bucovetsky is in Toronto and Montreal this week on a buying trip in connection with the new store he is soon to open in Timmins. As will be noted from the announcement elsewhere in this issue, Mr. Bucovetsky intends to open up on Third Ave. next to Preston's old stand, with a new and complete up-to-date stock of clothing, boots and shoes, gents' furnishings, etc. The new store will open on or about the fifteenth of April. Mr. Bucovetsky is well-known and esteemed in the Camp, and built up an enviable reputation as a merchant here during the years that he conducted a store on Pine street.

Nearly every year The Advance has found it necessary to point out that it seems as if people would not believe that the river was open until one or more horses were drowned through attempting to cross on the ice. Thursday of last week a valuable team of horses met death by going through the ice while they were being driven across the river by a young man to get a load of wood. As a consequence, following the plan of past years, the river will now be considered as open and the ice unsafe for the rest of this season. The truth is that the river has not been really safe for travelling on the ice by teams for some weeks, and that indeed some parts of the river have really been "open" all winter.

Engineer McKerrow of the T. & N. O. had an interesting experience with a dog getting on the track before the freight train he was running one day last week. The dog looked like a nice sort of an animal and the engineer felt sorry as the engine went over him, but there was no apparent way of preventing the death of the dog as there was neither time nor opportunity to stop the train and save the animal. The train did slow down a little, however, in sympathy with the expected death of the doggie, and on looking back the engineer had a surprise—the dog slipped out fourteen cars back from the engine. After jumping out between the cars he made off the railway right-of-way apparently unhurt. The dog had been right in the centre of the track when the engine came on him, and apparently he had crouched down enough to escape being hit by any of the car beams, but how he negotiated the passage under the cow-catcher without being hurt is a mystery.

Mrs. George Fulton, now of Hearst, Ont., is visiting friends in the Camp.

Among those returning from overseas this week on the Regina are listed: Sapper D. Brianton, of South Porcupine, and Pte. L. Leblanc, of Timmins.

Some of the goods stolen from the Northern Canada Supply Co. in the robbery last week have been located and arrests in connection with the crime will likely be made this week.

All will be pleased to know that Mrs. (Dr.) Moore and little son, who have both been ill with Influenza, are now well on the way to complete recovery.

Mr. J. D. Maclean, who has been in the south for medical treatment, is back at his home in New Liskeard, and is expected here again on Thursday (to-morrow)

Lieut. Fred Kenning, who went overseas with the Borden Battery and did his bit for King and Country, is renewing acquaintances in the Camp where he is being warmly welcomed by the friends who knew this old-timer in the early days of the Porcupine.

Mr. S. Schuler, one of the well-known and popular old-timers of the Porcupine, is leaving the Camp to go on a farm that he has purchased near Uxbridge, Ont. All will wish him every success "down on the farm," while regretting his removal from the Camp.

The Austrian, Wasyl Marynuk, who escaped from Cobalt jail last July, has been caught at Montreal and is being brought back to Cobalt this week. Marynuk was in Cobalt jail on a charge of holding up another foreigner and robbing him of $600.00. He made his escape by squeezing through the window bars and dropping to the market veranda roof.

Commencing with the Lenten service on Friday evening at 7.30, divine worship in St. Matthew's Church will be conducted according to the Daylight Saving time. A question box will be placed on the vestibule of the church next Sunday for the use of those who desire some special religious subject discussed from the pulpit or who wish to have their favorite hymns sung. The anthem on Sunday evening will be, "God so Loved the World."—Stainer.

It was found necessary last week to take Mr. R. T. Regnall, who was on his way to Mount Clemens for treatment, from the train at Toronto and convey him to the hospital. Mr. Alf. Yeomans, who accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Regnall, came to the conclusion on the trip down to Toronto that Mr. Regnall was suffering from pneumonia, and the medical experts at Toronto verified this opinion. For a day or two Mr. Regnall's condition was serious, but he is now reported as past all danger and well on the way to an early and complete recovery. He is in a private hospital in Toronto, and progressing very favorably.

Amateur Night at the New Empire drew the usual crowded house last Wednesday evening. The programme included English songs by the Bowes children, French songs by a young lady singer, and Italian songs by Mrs. Frank Baradino. The latter was a particularly effective singer with a good voice, and her selections won deserved applause from her compatriots and others present. Other nations of the Allies were expected to be present on Wednesday night, but the singers failed to fill their promises. For this week "something special and surprising" is promised for Amateur Night. To-night's the night!

The subject before the Timmins Discussion Club last Thursday was "Prohibition." Mr. M. B. Scott led the discussion, and the pros and cons were earnestly and at times, heatedly, discussed. Some of those present condemned prohibition as an undue interference with personal liberty and inducing other abuses and evils worse than the abuse of ordinary liquor. Some were in favor of wine and beer licenses, but one debater insisted that good liquor should not be done away with. On the other hand, a number of those present thought the evils growing from intemperance were so great that good men should be ready to give up a doubtful personal liberty for the general good. Of course, there was no decision one way or the other,—those of one opinion holding it to the end, and those opposing still opposing when all was said. The discussion, however, was interesting and may be helpful in many ways as bringing out and crystallizing the different opinions on a live subject.

Mr. Vincent Woodbury returned on Saturday from his visit to his old home at Oaklands, California, where he had the pleasure of attending the Golden Anniversary of the wedding of his father and mother. While in the south Mr. Woodbury met Mr. P. A. Robbins and reports him as in the best of health and still much interested in the North Land, and its progress.

The New Liskeard Town Council recently made a grant of $500.00 to the Board of Trade, to be used in the work of "boosting" the interests of the Creamery Town. In the past week or ten days Sudbury has had two serious fires, causing $75,000 damage and the second about twice that amount of loss.
