IMPRESSIVE ADDRESS AND VIEWS OF NAVY

gain was shown by the figures quoted by Capt. Boal, that 1,900,000 men had been sent from the U. S. A., and British ships had carried 1,100,000 of this number. Out of 2774 vessels lost during the war Great Britain's loss was 2,197, or more than four times as great as all the others put together, this being due to the greater trade carried on by the Empire. By the Peace Treaty Germany must replace all the vessels thus destroyed, and so now the enemy faces the matter of replacing a tonnage of 9,538,000. Quoting from the semi-official boast published by Germany in 1914 as to how Britain would be reduced to a nation of scorned foot-ball playing louts with no army and a few old tubs for a navy and completely at Germany's mercy, Capt. Boal showed how the British navy had upset this design. Thanks to the educational work of the Navy League the British Navy was not caught unprepared. Rev. Capt. Boal's address was enlivened by many witty sallies that greatly pleased the audience, particularly his references to narrow minded and unthinking references to the tobacco and rum used by the soldiers and sailors. He paid an earnest tribute to the glorious work of the Canadian soldiers, with special reference to the part played by the North Land. He also had a word for the tribe of Bolsheviks. He thought that every man who came to this country should be ready to abide by its laws and constitution or get back to his own country. "Every man here should be ready to live, and if need be, die for Canada and the Empire," he said. The duty of Canada to the returned men was also emphasized by the speaker who thought nothing too good for the returned men. Mr. Boal concluded his address with special thanks to the Acting Mayor, the Great War Veterans, the Theatre management and others for such good assistance in helping the success of the evening. For the widows and orphans he asked a generous collection. He thought $50.00 would not be too much to expect. Four returned soldiers kindly responded to the request for Volunteers to take up the collection. The sum of $47.25 was collected.

The views shown of the Surrender of the German Fleet, noteworthy events and characters in the Navy, etc., were much enjoyed. The witty and wise comments of Capt. Boal on these pictures also added to the pleasure of the evening. During the showing of the picture of Admiral Jellicoe, Capt. Boal referred to the coming visit of this famous Admiral to Canada. He said that there were two special places in Canada that he intended to use all his influences to have Admiral Jellicoe call at. One of these places was Cobalt and the other was Timmins. Many of the pictures caused very humorous comment from Rev. Capt. Boal, while others such as the unusual picture of the sinking of the Lusitania, roused condemnation of the enemy that could be guilty of such foul deeds.

Before the meeting was finally brought to a close with the singing of the National Anthem, Rev. Capt. Boal referred to the coming visit of the Prince of Wales to Timmins. Capt. Boal asked for permission to make a couple of suggestions to the municipal authorities of the Town. One of these suggestions was that the day of the Prince's visit should be proclaimed and fully observed as a special civic holiday, and the other was that the Great War Veterans who would act as a guard of honor on the occasion should be given medals struck to commemorate the occasion. He thought that the people would be pleased at the expenditure of perhaps $1.00 or so that the returned soldiers might have a fitting memento of the first visit of an heir to the British throne to Timmins.

There was a meeting Sunday evening of the local G. W. V. A., arranged before anything was known of the Navy League meeting. The Veterans, however, were through with their session shortly after nine o'clock and a number of them came over to the theatre in a body and added to the attendance and interest.

IMPORTANT VISITORS IN THE CAMP LAST WEEK

Timmins last Thursday had a brief call from two distinguished visitors from England who were in the North Land on a visit to the Abitibi Power & Paper Co. plant at Iroquois Falls. They were Col. S. D. Sheldon, R. E., D. S. O., Chief Engineer of the Reid chain of paper mills in England, and Mr. D. Nuttall, C. B. E., one of the directors of the paper machine firm of Bently and Jackson, Bury, Lancashire. Mr. Nuttall's firm handed over their plant to the Minister of Munitions early in the war, and Mr.

Nuttall himself spent four years in the office of the Minister of Munitions giving expert service in the manufacture and distribution of munitions. Col. Sheldon went to the front at the commencement of the war and spent practically five years on active service or in hospital. He lost an arm in the war, but gained honor and distinction by his services and bravery. Col. Sheldon and Mr. Nuttall are on a visit to the leading paper mills on this continent and took opportunity of their visit to Iroquois Falls to make a hurried visit to the gold camp. They were accompanied to Timmins by Mayor S. G. McCoubrey, of Iroquois Falls and Mr. A. J. Hodgson, town clerk there. The party visited the Hollinger and had a brief glimpse of the camp in general and were most favorably impressed with what they saw. They were generally surprised and pleased at the North Land. The big plant at Iroquois Falls was a surprise to them, as was also the Paper Town itself, as they did not expect to see so large, modern and complete a plant in this north country, nor did they think they would see a town as up-to-date and pleasing as that of Iroquois Falls. Timmins made a similar pleasing impression, and they left the North Land last week with the highest opinions of the progress and prosperity of this country.
