MR. J. L. ENGLEHART DOES NOT RESIGN VERY EASILY.

Up in this North Land there has been a general belief that Mr. J. L. Englehart (Chairman of the T. & N. O. Commission) had resigned some time ago, and the majority were growing quite resigned to that resignation. Just when the people were beginning to wonder why a new Chairman was not appointed, along comes a despatch from Toronto crediting Premier Drury with saying in reply to a question that no resignation from J. L. Englehart as Chairman of the T. & N. O. Railway Commission had been received by the present Government nor was there any official notice of one left to the Government. Well, good evening! The people up here had duly mourned over Mr. Englehart's resignation, had said good things about his service, and generally conducted themselves in a becoming way previous to hailing a new chairman. Now they are coolly told that it is all "Love's Labor Lost" and that they might have saved their tears to add to the flood on Third Avenue, Timmins. If Ireland were used as badly as the North Land, the Irish in the U. S. A. would be rebelling against Great Britain about twice as often as they do now. However, there is one man in town who is now going along in the joyous hope that he will learn one of these bright, hopeful, Spring mornings that even the Hearst Government has not really resigned, but that it is all "Just newspaper talk."

MAKE DOMINION INCOME TAX RETURN AT ONCE.

As will be noted from the advertisement elsewhere in this issue, the Finance Department of the Dominion Government is giving fair warning of the need for filing returns for the Dominion Income Tax. Those who do not heed the warning thus given will have themselves to blame if they incur any of the penalties provided by the Act. For there are penalties and during the past year the Government has shown a disposition to collect the penalties from those who seem to be attempting to evade the Act. Every person required to make a return who fails to do so within the specified time shall be liable to a penalty of twenty-five per cent of the amount of the tax payable. Any person, whether taxable or otherwise, who fails to make a return or provide information duly required according to the provisions of the Act, shall be liable on summary conviction to a penalty of $100.00 per day for each day during which the default continues. Also, any person making a false statement in any return or in any information required by the Minister, shall be liable, on summary conviction, to a fine not exceeding $10,000.00, or to six months' imprisonment, or to both fine and imprisonment. These are the penalties provided for those in Class 2, which includes all individuals, corporations and joint stock companies. All persons in Class 2 must file returns on or before April 30th 1920. Class 1 includes all trustees, executors, administrators, agents and assignees; employers making return of names and amounts paid to directors, officials, agents and other employees; corporations and joint stock companies making a return of all dividends and bonuses paid to shareholders and members during 1919. Class 1 returns must be in on or before March 30th. The penalty in this class for default in returns is $10.00 per day for each day default continues, to be collected in the same way as taxes are collected. If in any doubt as to liability for this Dominion Income Tax the best way is to make the return, explaining the ease to the Commissioner of Taxation. According to the notices this year: "Every unmarried person or widow or widower, without dependents, as defined by the Act, who during the calendar year 1919 received or earned $1000 or more; all other individuals who during the calendar year 1919 received or earned $2000.00 or more; every corporation and joint stock company, whose profits exceeded $2,000.00 during the fiscal year ended in 1919;" these are liable to the tax on income imposed by the Federal Government.

Mr. R. J. Donohue returned this week from a visit to Montreal and other points east.

HON. ARTHUR MEIGHAN SPEAKS ON THE TARIFF

referred to Major Pullen's fine record in South Africa and France and gave as his judgment that the Major would make an excellent member for this riding. When Mr. Nicholson went on to discuss soldiers' pensions, etc., he was interrupted by the proverbial interrupter who referred to his sons overseas. "I, too, had a son overseas who will return no more, and I am just as anxious as you or anybody else that everything possible should be done for the returned men and the dependents of those who gave their lives in self-sacrifice." Mr. Nicholson went on to show what the Government had attempted for the soldiers. Anything not done was not done for lack of will but for lack of knowledge of the need in that particular case, or lack of power. There was, of course, a limit to what the country could do, but he was in favor of going the limit. Canada, he showed, had led the world in generosity to her soldiers and returned men, even Australia being admittedly behind. More could and would be done, and Major Pullen would be a helpful man to have at Ottawa to see to the interests of the soldiers. Some interrupters referred to the Winnipeg Strike, and were well answered by the speaker who showed that none of the Winnipeg men were recognized as organized labor men.

Hon. Arthur Meighan, in opening his eloquent address, referred to his pleased surprise at the size and modern type of the Town of Timmins. In touching on the soldier question he suggested that the Government that had supported the soldiers when they were overseas could surely be better trusted that the men who would have deserted the men in the trenches when they called for reinforcements. The scale of pensions paid in Canada, he said, was the highest in the world. The Soldiers' Re-Establishment in the U. S. A. and Australia had been modelled on Canada's early work in this line. The Government had incurred much hostility and unpopularity by trying to do things for the soldiers overseas and on their return, but they were ready to go on and do all possible to repay the great debt. It was all right for some with no further touch of financial responsibility than debt to talk at large about doing this and that but there was a limit to what the country could stand, though personally he was in favor of going the limit for the dependents of those killed and for those disabled. Going on to the question of the tariff, the speaker said he did not believe in high protection, but a tariff that would aid home industries and provide revenue. The tariff at present is lower in level than under the Laurier regime, but trade expansion has made it bring in more revenue, and that new revenue is needed. He questioned if any other plan of raising revenue would be as desirable as the tariff plan. The only other way was direct taxation. The Government had examples of this in the Business Profits Tax, which was double that of the U. S., by the way, and in the Income Tax which was higher than that in England now, although the Canadian Government was sometimes accused of favoring the big fellows. He quoted the income tax scales to show how the big fellows were touched. Hon. Mr. Meighan did not think the free traders were sincere in their claims of helping Canada's position by taking off the tariff at this time. The only apparent remedy for the difference in exchange between the U. S. and Canada was to sell more and buy less from the U. S. The free-traders pretended that to make it easier to buy from the U. S., was the way to encourage buying less. The Liberals had gotten into power on the tariff platform, but in office had maintained protection. In Canada's position there seemed no other reasonable way. Even England was now questioning free trade, and if any country could make Free Trade a success that country would naturally be England which was so largely a commercial and industrial people. Mr. Meighan closed his gifted address with an appeal to the audience to support Major Pullen, a man of the North, who knew the North and its needs,—a soldier who had served his fellows so well and honorably overseas, and who would of the people if elected to represent them here in times of peace.

Notes of Interest

Mr. W. M. Widdifield left this morning on a business visit to Kirkland Lake.

Word was received in town this week of the destruction by fire of the handsome new school at Iroquois Falls. This modern and well-equipped structure cost about $50,000.00, and was only recently completed.

MOTION PICTURE EXPERT GETS GREAT PICTURES

Pathscope Man Secures Striking Views of Dog Race and Other North Land Views.

Mr. M. J. Shiels, who has been here for some weeks past taking motion picture films of the Hollinger Mine to be used for educational purposes by the Ontario Government, on Saturday last secured a number of unusual and striking views of the Porcupine Dog Race and Timmins on a holiday. The pictures will be something entirely new for the south and will undoubtedly be viewed with the greatest interest and pleasure. They will be shown in the film service supplied to hundreds of theatres all over Canada, and few features will equal in originality and special interest and attraction the views secured by Mr. Shiels. Before the Race Mr. Shiels secured a close-up of the eight competing teams in the race; then he caught them on the start off; and he also secured remarkable views of stretches of the course where two teams raced alongside each other, Martin's team drawing ahead and passing soon. The immense crowds gathered here for Saturday were also filmed on several occasions and from several angles. A number of other features were also introduced, while the film concludes with pictures of the winners as they came in on the home stretch.

Mr. Shiels, with his good humor and patience, soon had the big crowds about as anxious as he was that the pictures should be a success, and there was unusual interest shown in his expert work with the big camera. The mine and dog race pictures will be ready for release in two or three weeks and in three weeks or a month will be at the New Empire Theatre here.

DIAMOND DRILLING IN MATACHEWAN AREA.

Diamond drilling is being done on the Matatchewan Gold Mines property at present. Work was recently stopped at the property, but the diamond drilling campaign has been started. On the Lake Matatchewan Gold Company's property, alongside the Matatchewan Gold Mines, a diamond drill campaign is also being carried on. A few weeks ago a number of holes were drilled and the cores shipped to Toronto for assaying. Now further drilling is being planned, which indicates that results from the previous samples must have been promising.

J. P. BICKELL HAS SOLD HIS BROKERAGE OFFICE.

Last week the firm of J. P. Bickell & Co. Was taken over by a new firm, A. L. Hudson & Co., who will carry on the business at the same premises in the Standard Bank Building, Toronto. The head of the new firm, Mr. A. L. Hudson, has been connected with the J. P. Bickell firm for a number of years. Mr. Bickell, who has been in the brokerage business for about thirteen years, has left the business to devote all his attention to his mining interests. Mr. Bickell is connected with the Temiskaming Silver Mine and the McIntyre-Porcupine Gold Mines, being President of the former, and recently being appointed Manager Director of the latter. He has also other interests in mines and mining, to which he will hereafter be able to devote more undivided attention.

HUMOR AND DRAMA UNITED IN REX BEACH PICTURE.

Everybody enjoys a good laugh, especially when there is more than the laughter to please, and it is part of the pleasure of Rex Beach's Goldwyn picture, "The Girl From Outside," to be at the New Empire Theatre Friday and Saturday of this week, that you get a good laugh now and then in the midst of an absorbing story. And the laughs are in the right spot, and touch the right spot, too. Some of the laughs are due to the characters and some to the situations, but they are all honest and wholesome. You can hardly help smiling at the five crooks and their great interest in their new ward, the orphan girl who comes alone to Alaska. The wall-eyed crook, who is deaf only when he wants to, is a sketch when he is not a scream. The Chinaman has the smile that never fades. But most of all you'll be amused by the capture of the one cow in Nome to get milk for the girl when she is sick. The cow is handled a little roughly, but all in a good cause. Rex Beach has a fine sense of raucy humor, with the gift of telling a gripping story, and as the acting in the film is the best, "The Girl From Outside," is well worth seeing.

Mr. G. L. Drew was a visitor to Kirkland Lake this week.

There's a home for little children

NOT an orphanage, or an institution—a home.

THE children there are not all total orphans. Some have fathers; some have mothers.

IT'S a heart-warming sight to see fathers come there on Saturdays and Sundays to spend happy hours with their motherless bairns.

EQUALLY comforting is the appreciation of widows whose little ones are well taken care of while they are at work.

MANY totally orphaned little ones are very early placed in good homes where they may renew the love of father and mother.

TO preserve the atmosphere of home; that's the guiding spirit of the Orphan Children's work of the Salvation Army.

CARD OF THANKS.

I could like to take this opportunity to thank the drivers of teams and the people along the course for their courtesy and kind consideration during the Dog Race on Saturday. The thoughtfulness of the drivers of teams in giving room for the dog team to pass comfortably and the kindness of people in general in helping on the race are much appreciated. From both the general public and the other contestants in the race I received nothing but kindness and consideration, and I would like to express my thanks to each and all for the fine spirit of good sportsmanship thus shown.
