THIS LOOKS LIKE HELP FOR COLLECTION PLATES.

A resident of Wakow, Sask., found guilty of covering a cent coin with "silver" paper and passing it off as a quarter, has been sentenced to thirty days' imprisonment with hard labour. If this sort of judgment is made to apply to collections Sunday evening at special meetings at the theatre and to donations made to ball games, some of the "cheap" guys here might get a free month's board as well as a quarter show for a cent. "Silvering" copper coins to pass them as quarters for collections here has been noted here on more than one occasion, though the guilty party or parties have not been definitely known.

LATCHFORD FAILS TO MEET DEBENTURE DEBT.

According to the despatches the Town of Latchford has been unable to meet its debenture debt. The amount is not large but the situation is a peculiar one, chiefly on account of the fact that Latchford at present is without a local council, a municipal clerk or treasurer. Accordingly, there does not seem to be any local authority to whom the bondholders may make request or appeal. In answer to a question from an interested source the Attorney-General's Department is quoted as stating that there is no law providing for the intervention of the Government in the matter and that the bondholders, failing to obtain satisfaction in any other way, have recourse to the courts, just as would be the case where merchandise and not bonds were involved. Latchford is a small town about nine miles south of Cobalt on the main line of the T. & N.O. At one time it was a booming town, but in recent years it has steadily dropped behind in the race forward as a town.

PROMISING GOLD FIND MADE AT SESEKINIKA.

Spectacular gold ore was found some days ago on the Jensen Farm in Maisonneville Township, Seseikinika district. At a depth of about 18 feet the vein was about 2 feet wide and seemed to increase in width as it went down. The vein on the surface was only a seam a few inches in width. The surface vein, like many of the seams in the Seseikinika district, was very rich in gold, and the wider vein at depth was equally laden with gold throughout its greater width. Free gold was in evidence, and better still, the average gold contents of the ore body suggested a high-grade of commercial ore. If further work shows the same pleasing results evidenced from what has been done so far on the property, the prospectors who have claimed that Seseikinika has not received the attention it deserved will be fully justified. The Jensen Farm is the property of the Golden Summit Mining Company. They are doing considerable development and exploration work on the property and are reported as meeting with results that are most pleasing and encouraging.

SAD DEATH OF MR. E. PRUIN AROUSES MUCH SYMPATHY.

The Coroner's Jury in the inquest last week regarding the death of Mr. Edmond J. H. Pruin on Monday, June 14th, at the Central Shaft Head Frame, Hollinger Mine, returned a verdict to the effect that the death was by accident with no blame attached to anyone. The sad accident has aroused much sympathy, the employers and fellow employees alike at the Hollinger expressing their deep regret and sorrow at the unfortunate occurrence.

Mr. Pruin came to the North Country from Belgium to Connaught and later found his way to the Hollinger. His ability, good character and ambitions were early recognized by his associates. He overlooked no opportunity to advance his knowledge of all work that he was assigned to, as the circumstances of his death show. While there were no witnesses, it seems that after quitting about midday he evidently became interested in the self-dumping skip arrangement on the top of the Head Frame and climbed up to better observe its operation. All that is known of subsequent events is that he fell 32 feet, suffering a fracture of the base of the skull from which he died the same day at 4 o'clock p.m. A widow and nine children survive him in Belgium, to whom the deepest sympathy of all is extended. While they have lost their breadwinner, the generous provisions of Canada's Compensation laws will completely safeguard the widow and orphans.

Mine Inspector J. G. McMillan investigated the accident on Wednesday and was present at the inquest.

Plans are said to be under way for the re-opening for the Porcupine Miracle property. There is a small mining plant at the Porcupine Miracle and the property had considerable work done on it before the war.
