SCHUMACHER DECLARES DIVIDEND OF 20 CENTS

At a meeting of the directors of the Schumacher Mines last week a dividend of 20 cents a share was declared, payable this week. The payment is to be made from the proceeds of the first Hollinger payments.

THIS WILL BE THE KEENEST FOOTBALL CONTEST TO DATE

In the N.O.F.A. Series for the King Cup the Dome plays at Timmins tomorrow (Thursday). The kick-off will be at 6.15 p.m. sharp, and a keen football battle may be confidently expected. No football enthusiast should miss this match.

VISITORS PLEASED WITH PROGRESS AT PAYMASTER

Last week a party of financial men interested in the Paymaster Mine visited the Camp and inspected the property, and all expressed themselves as well pleased with the progress being made. The party included:—Messrs. C. F. Wilson, W. W. Stacey and Mr. Karle, of Worcester, Mass.; and Messrs. Jacobs and Martin of Boston, Mass. Dr. Walter Harvey Weed, the noted geologist, of New York City, also came to the Paymaster last week and is still at the property where he is making an exhaustive examination.

"SPECIAL" MEALS AT SOUTH PORCUPINE ON FRIDAY

For the accommodation of the public attending the Big Day at South Porcupine on Friday, Aug. 4th, meals are to be served in the basement of the school building from 12 noon to 2 p.m., and from 5 to 7 p.m. The price to be charged for each meal is only 50 cents. At the last Big Day at South End (two years ago) the meals served in the school building were something decidedly special and all were enthusiastic about the unusually fine luncheons and dinners served. This year the meals will be up to the same high standard and no finer recommendation could be made than this.

ENGLISH INTERESTS LOOK OVER MURRAY-MOGRIDGE

Last week a party representing English interests and including a number of mining engineers went to Bourkes to look over the Murray-Mogridge property. Sir Archibald Michaelson, Bart. is said to be one of the English capitalists concerned. There are many old-timers who have belief in the Murray-Mogridge, but so far the property has not had a complete chance to show whether it has the goods or not. If the present English interests take it up, it is understood that about half a million dollars will be available to make the purchase and for expenditures in development.

MAN ON BAIL LEAVES AND WARRANT OUT FOR ARREST

At the police court here last Thursday the remanded case against Wm. Stanley for obtaining money under false pretences came up again for hearing but the accused did not show up to answer. He was out on $100.00 bail. The bail was estreated and a bench warrant issued for his arrest. Apparently Stanley has left town as the police have not been able to locate him here. The case against Stanley arises from the cashing of a cheque for $85.00 at a local grocery store, the cheque not being redeemable. The cheque was made out to John Graboski and signed "William Stanley." It was endorsed also "William Stanley" instead of by the person in whose favour it was drawn. Stanley took to his heels after cashing the cheque and the police and the owner of the grocery had a hard chase before he was overtaken. He had only about $60.00 on him when arrested.

Thursday four men were each fined $1.00 and costs, a total of $7.50 each, for passing a funeral cortege in their autos. For parking on the wrong side of the road another man was fined $1.00 and costs, a total of $7.50. Two men were each fined $20.00 and costs on drunk charges. A liquor case and a case of breach of the by-law against horses running at large were remanded to this week.

IROQUOIS FALLS VIEW OF MONDAY'S COCHRANE GAME

The following is the report of the baseball match at Cochrane on Monday, as given by The Broke Hustler, Iroquois Falls' own newspaper:—
Cochrane has always enjoyed the reputation of being a good sporting town, but it will take them a long while to live down the exhibition of poor sportsmanship shown in the game with Iroquois Falls at the Junction town Monday, and incidentally President McKinnon's circuit suffered a severe black eye. We are willing to admit there must have been some people who were at the game who must have been disgusted with the tactics adopted, not only by the team itself, but by the large majority of spectators.

In the first place, and more important than others, was the act of the Cochrane team in refusing to go to bat for their fifth inning in the hope that the delay thus created would necessitate the calling of the game on account of fast falling darkness. In this, they were aided and abetted by the Umpire, named Moffat, who refused to order Cochrane to continue, and who also failed to call the game. A long delay and argument resulted until it was too dark to continue. At this stage of the game, four and a half innings had been played, and the Falls were leading 13-7.

In the second place, the game was handled or rather mishandled in anything but a creditable way, and it is certainly not to the credit of Prexy McKinnon to appoint men who do not have the necessary requirements to act in the capacity of umpires. When an umpire has no control of a game, a wooden cigar sign of an Indian would do as well.

Thirdly, and sufficient for the day, was the manner in which the crowd was allowed to roam any where on the field. The Falls bench was surrounded by a bedlam of noisy youngsters and grown ups, who jeered and mobbed to such an extent as to interfere with the visiting players. When appealed to by the visiting manager, Jen Becker, President McKinnon seemed disinclined to do anything to make conditions better. Some spectators' idea of good sport was to throw a lemon at Pine while he was in the box in the act of pitching.

It is hard to describe a game such as this one as the crowd rushed on the field at every opportunity and arguments were frequently started by the home team to delay proceedings so the visitors could not win while leading because of darkness. When they were batting in the fourth inning, Cochrane were satisfied to go ahead, because a hit ball could not be seen. Another feature lacking in sportsmanship was the leaving up of football posts and nets in the left outfield. Bartholemew in the fourth inning, raced right into this net after the ball without seeing the net.

For the good of the game, President McKinnon should see to it that a repetition of Monday's fiasco does not occur again, and incidentally with darkness falling so early, and train connections so bad, the remaining games in Cochrane should be played in the afternoon.

As for the game itself, the Falls were head and shoulders over the homesters, and "Slip" Campbell's offerings were pie for the Beckermen. Add to this the fact that the Falls were on a terrific batting spree and you have the reason. No less than fifteen hits, eleven singles, three two baggers by Anson, Brydage, and Little, and a clean home run by Anson in five innings was the result of the terrific hitting of the Falls players. This accounted for thirteen runs.

Pine allowed five hits, one of them a freak home run by Morrison. This was the hit that went by Bartholemew in the darkness, and into the goal net. In the third inning, Cochrane got five runs on only one hit. Pine hit three batters in a row and this coupled with an error and a fielder's choice accounted for the runs. The Falls featured their fielding with two snappy plays cutting off runs at the plate. On one of these plays, five men handled the ball. Hagan caught a nice game, holding Pine well. The contest stands as no game, and will likely be replayed if effecting the championship. The box score follows:—

T. & N. O. STILL MAINTAINS ITS WELL-KNOWN RECORD

The T. & N. O. is famous for never killing or seriously injuring anyone, no matter how many accidents it may have. Sunday it proved true to this fame. A lady was walking on the track near the crossing in Rochester when the train came along. The lady stepped off the track but did not get far enough away from the train. The approaching train was fortunately not going full steam and the train crew had the brakes working at once. The lady's skirt caught in the front of the engine and she was thrown off the track. Luckily, however, no serious injuries were sustained, the shock being the worst feature of the accident.

STANDING OF THE TEAMS IN DISTRICT BALL LEAGUE

In the District Baseball League series the following is the standing of the three clubs:—

In the first half Cochrane won four games and tied one. Timmins won three, lost one, and tied one. Iroquois Falls won one and lost four.

In the second half, Timmins has won one and lost one. Iroquois Falls has lost one and played another that was called on account of darkness, being well ahead at the close of the game. Cochrane has won one and played a called game.

Cochrane has won the first section but Timmins expects to pull out ahead for the second half. The winners of the first and second halves play off at the end of the series for the championship and the H. B. Wills & Co. cup. This cup is such a handsome one that Timmins wants it this year and next.

FALLS 13, COCHRANE 7, IN FOUR INNINGS AND A HALF

Iroquois Falls played Cochrane at the latter place on Monday of this week in the district baseball league series. The game had to be discontinued in the fifth innings on account of the darkness. The Falls was five times to bat and Cochrane 4, and the score was 13 to 7 in favour of the Falls. The Falls complain that the umpire was not all that an umpire should be and that Cochrane allowed other disadvantages to the visitors that were not commendable. The Falls had a batting day, getting 15 hits off slim Campbell, as compared with 5 by Cochrane off Pine. Cochrane is credited with four errors, as against two by the Falls. The spectators are accused by the Falls of interfering with players and being generally unsportsmanlike. It is understood that the game will be considered as a no-game, and that it will be replayed if it affects the standing of the teams at the end of the season.
