5,000 PEOPLE HERE PASS THROUGH FORESTRY CAR

Timmins Makes Record Attendance On Visit of Canadian Forestry Association Car.
 The exhibition car of the Canadian Forestry Association has been on its regular tour of the North Land and this year has met with very pleasing increase of interest and public attendance. The car, just returned from a tour of British Columbia, is now on a tour of Ontario and Quebec. Mr. G. G. Blythe, who is in charge of the car, estimates that fully 1100 people have been visiting the car each day on the average until its arrival in Timmins. Here all previous records were broken for the towns visited, it being estimated that fully 5,000 people passed through the car during its stay in town.
 The Forestry Car has made several visits here, each year seeing an increase of interest. The car is sent out at the expense and under the direction of the Canadian Forestry Association, a voluntary organization of Canadian citizens interested in the protection and development of the forest wealth of this country. The Canadian Forestry Association now has a membership of close to 15,000. The efforts of the Association are centered on reducing the waste of Canada's national wealth of forests through fires, insect pests and other evil influences.

The Forestry Car this year is even more interesting than in previous years. It is divided into compartments each compartment dealing with a special phase or feature of the good work carried on by the Forestry Association. Special emphasis is given to the matter of forest fire protection. Placards give startling information as to the unnecessary economic loss through forest fires in Canada each year. An electrically lighted device gives striking illustration of the beauty of the forest in its natural state, and the ravage and destruction and loss and ugliness that follow forest fires.
 Another specially interesting exhibit shows how the removal of all the forest from hillsides injures the whole country-side, allowing the earth to disintegrate and wash down into the valleys, as well as removing the natural protection of the trees. This point is made clear by a clever double-sided model, showing on one side the right way to deal with the problem and on the other the effects of the wrong method.
 Considerable attention is given to insects and other pests that injure the forests. It is pointed out that millions are lost in Canada each year through the ravages of these pests. In this section there are exhibits of various injurious insects, together with samples of their evil work and suggestions for their extinction or curbing. In the latter connection there is an interesting display of mounted birds of the forest, with the suggestion that these particular birds do noble service in helping rid the forests of injurious insects of various kinds.

Noteworthy attention is paid by the Forestry Car to the pulp and paper industry. A cleverly designed model paper mill and town is shown. Statistics given in this department show that Canada now has 100 pulp mills, employing over 31,000 people, and utilizing over 600,000 horse power of electrical energy in this industrial branch. Innumerable samples of pulp and paper are shown, including fine writing paper, blotting paper, etc., made in Canada. Some of the less generally known uses to which the products of the forests are turned are also illustrated by the products exhibited in the car. Silk waists for ladies, ties for men, blankets for families, foundry patterns for moulding purposes, chemical products, these are some of the special products shown in the car. Distillations from birch, beech and maple, on exhibit in bottles in one glass case, show that the forests are used to produce other alcohols than wood alcohol which made the O. T.A. famous. Mrs. Jiggs' rolling pin was also on exhibit as one of the general products of the forest, together with canoes, furniture, building materials and what-not.

On Sunday evening there was a moving picture relative to forest fire protection shown at the New Empire Theatre before the Band Concert. This film is the one made and shown by the Canadian Forestry Association to emphasize the wastefulness of forest fires and the effective methods that have been adopted to minimize the forest fire evil. Special emphasis is given to the truth that the majority of forest fires are caused by the carelessness of campers and others. The lesson is impressed that all should show the greatest care and thought in protecting the public forest wealth. Mr. Blythe made a brief but very effective address after the picture.

SUDBURY COAL NOT VERY GOOD SAYS PROV. GEOLOGIST
 One mining man has "staked his reputation" on the value of the Sudbury coal fields, in connection with which there has been much publicity lately. Apparently another mining man, Mr. C. W. Knight, one of the Provincial geologists, is staking his reputation the other way about. At any rate the substance of his report on the matter is to the effect that the coal deposits of the Sudbury district are not of great commercial value. This report is now in the hands of Mr. Thos. W. Gibson, Deputy Minister of Mines.

"While the mode of occurrence of the anthracolite veins at Sudbury and of the true anthracite seams are quite different," states Mr. Knight. "I feel nevertheless that the distinction given by the name anthracolite is an artificial one, since the analysis of the pure material from the Sudbury occurrence shows it to have the composition of a very pure anthracite. But apart from the minor question of a name for the coal material we must remember that there are only two important points to consider first, how much of the coal material is in sight; and second, what is the quality of the materials? As to the first question, one may say that there are only a few hundreds, or at most a thousand or two, tons in sight; I would prefer to say a few hundred tons. Then as to quality, while the pure coal material shows on analysis to have as high a per cent. of fixed carbon as 90 per cent. and as low an ash content as 4 per cent., still the point to be remembered is that the coal material is mixed with quartz and that this impurity brings the ash content up to as high as 36 per cent—a very poor grade of coal."
