NO POLICE COURT TO BE HELD HERE THIS WEEK

There will be no regular session of the police court held in Timmins this week, Police Magistrate Atkinson having wired Chief Greer to this effect yesterday. If as many cases come in during the next week as during the past there will be a regular full house for the police court session on Thursday of next week. In addition to two or three plain drunks, J. Boychuk is charged by Chief Greer with illegally having liquor, and John Budzok with selling liquor. Then there will likely be a bunch of Chinamen. Chief Greer and his staff invited themselves to what appeared to be a little card party in the rear of the Canadian Club Cafe. As a result, Kwong Sang is charged with running a gaming house and fourteen other Chinamen, with names ranging from Wan Lung to Dang Li, were taken in charge by the police. All put up bail and so were not kept long at the Hotel de Greer. Some of the Chinamen were visitors from Cochrane and other outside points and as the Omeme Mirror would say, "A good time was had by all."

A more serious case to come up is that of a Russian named Jos. Martinchuk, aged about 40, who is accused of a serious offence against a girl of about thirteen years of age. Martinchuk was arrested by Chief Greer on Tuesday in a house other than his usual boarding place. The alleged offence is said to have occurred at his regular boarding place and the family visited swift punishment upon him before the police arrived. He was pounded up fairly well before he made his escape, and when the police eventually located him he was wearing a black eye as a token of the wrath of the relatives of the young girl.

TIMMINS YOUNG LADY WAS LUCKY IN HAILEYBURY

Miss Alice Ryan, of the Bank of Commerce staff in Timmins, struck some fair luck last week in Haileybury among all the ill luck that visited the County Town. Miss Ryan had been on holidays in the east and on her return stopped off at Haileybury for a visit with friends there. Fortunately, the friends she stayed with were among the very few who were not burnt out in Haileybury, and so Miss Ryan saved all her clothing and effects. The fire crept up to the third house from Mrs. Beaton's, where Miss Ryan was staying. All had to take refuge in the lake from the fury of the fire and the suffocating smoke. When the danger was over, however, they were able to return to the house to find it safe, with the contents unharmed. It is a striking commentary on the ill-fortune of many that it is considered good luck to suffer nothing more than many hours of danger, standing neck-high in the cold water of the lake numbed by the cold, stifled by the smoke, and fearing the worst to come at any moment!

Miss Grace Maedonald, returned on Sunday from a two months' visit to Toronto, Peterborough and other points south.

Loss of Life May Reach

From Timmins 43 packages of clothing were sent Friday at noon, Mrs. Me Innis and the other ladies working like Trojans in securing and packing the goods, the Fire Brigade and team and others assisting in the good work. More clothing, etc., is still being secured and further shipments will be made from here.

Premier Drury and Hon. Mr. Bowman, Minister of Lands & Forests, were also early on the scene and worked very hard at the relief work.

There is much criticism of the Government for taking the fire rangers out of the North Land while the dry spell continued with the menace of bush fires. Also there is criticism because there were no rangers in the Liskeard and Haileybury areas, the organized municipalities having suggested that no rangers be appointed as they would attend to the matter themselves. Their idea, apparently, was that they would have more freedom for burning and clearing if there were no rangers. Hon. Mr. Bowman, however, has announced that an investigation will be held to place the blame for the fires that caused such terrible losses.

New Liskeard hospital is crowded with patients suffering burns, etc., in the fire. Among the number is Mr. Paul A. Cobbold, Division Court Clerk who was seriously burned in a gallant attempt to rescue his wife.

Notes of the Fire

There were three births while the fire was in progress at Haileybury. In one case, men held a mattress above the water, dashing water on it continually to save the mother and babe from death by fire.

Gervais Sutherland, of Haileybury, gave his life to save two children. Some girls floated down the lake on a raft and were rescued during the night.

The pupils at the Convent were all saved, the Sisters showing both courage and coolness of the finest type. Miss Blanche Boivin and Miss Margaret Gagne were among those from Timmins. Miss Boivin was slightly burned at the back of the neck. The girls had an unpleasant two hours in the water of the Lake but all escaped without injury.

Complaint has been made that the restaurant at Temagami charged high prices for food during the days following the fire when so many people were travelling to or from the scene of the tragedies. This complaint should be investigated and if true an example should be made. If the complaint is not warranted the restaurant should be cleared of the charge. Men were at work Saturday and Sunday re-building shacks and stopping places on the ruins of Haileybury.

The Northern News of Cobalt did credit to itself and service to its community by its speedy publication of a special edition with a remarkably comprehensive and detailed story of the disaster.

Among the losers at Haileybury the following will be of particular interest locally:—Mrs. W. F. Richardson's sister at North Cobalt was burned out as was also Mr. Richardson's brother in Haileybury; Mr. F. J. Hornby's brother and father at Haileybury were burned out, losing everything; Mr. Alex Brough's two houses at Haileybury were destroyed; Mr. Jos. Brough's place was saved; Mrs. Hoskin's mother lost her residence and all its contents; Inspector Blackwell's fine house was among the first to go; Mr. T. H. Lake, brother of Mr. Geo. Lake, lost house and store and everything in them; Mr. John Kilgore's sister was burned out, and she and her husband had a difficult time rescuing their family; Mrs. Cadman's house was destroyed; Mr. H. E. Montgomery's parents lost their home, as did his sister, Mrs. Galbraith; Mr. Bailey Harrison was burned out; Mr. R. Le Henp and Police Magistrate Atkinson who were both in Timmins at the time of the fire, (as was also Inspector Blackwell), were fortunate to the extent that both their homes escaped the fire.

At the last meeting of the Caledonian Society of Timmins, Mr. J. Nicolson gave the Society a hearty invitation to spend Hallowe'en Night at Golden City. Of course, the invitation will be accepted and the Caledonians expect to have a very happy observance of the Scottish Hallowe'en at Porepine (Golden City) this year.

HAILEYBURY SHOULD GET ASSISTANCE TO REBUILD

Government Should Assist By Re-building County Buildings at Once, as well as by Specific Grants.

For the honour of the Province and the stability of the North Land, Haileybury must be re-built. Every other town in the district should refuse at this time to consider any other town as the county seat. The Government should at once commence the re-building of the County Buildings. This will help Haileybury. Further there should be substantial grants to assist the Haileyburians. Grants are mentioned for the settlers. Why not for these "settlers,"—these true pioneers of the North,—the men who built Haileybury? Haileybury has a debenture debt of around $250,000.00. If the town is not assisted to prosperity again, this debt must perforce be defaulted. Such default would be a desperate blow to every town in the North Land. It would be a disgrace to the Province. It would be a slur on the settlers who made this new rich land of value to the south.

Haileybury must be re-built. Haileybury must be given a fair show. Every town in the North Land and every good citizen of the Province should insist that Haileybury be given a fair chance to live again and grow and pay its way and prosper.

WHEN THE OTHER FELLOW'S BUSY

When the other fellow's busy, wave your hand and pass along, Do not ask him thento listen to your little tale of wrong. Do not talk about the weather or the latest bit of news. Shout a glad good morning to him, but don't stop to air your views.

When the other fellow's busy with the work he has to do, Don't imagine that he's eager to hear idle talk from you. He won't thank you for your visit, but he'll list you with the fools. And he'll wish he'd never met you if you make him drop his tools.

When the other fellow's busy, never take the empty chair. Just forget your pleasant story or your little tale of care; For the chances are he's thinking of the work he has to do. And before the day is over he would like to see it through.

If you want to keep the friendship of the men you meet and know, If you'd have them glad to see you and be sorry when you go, There's a certain way to do it, and I'm telling it in rhyme: When the other fellow's busy, do not stop and waste his time.

—Edgar Guest.

THE NEW GRAMMAR

"My boy," said the school inspector, "what's the plural of 'mouse'?" "Mice," said Jimmie. "Right," said the inspector. "And now, what is the plural of 'baby'?" "Twins!" said Jimmie.—Exchange

"I wish now," said the lecturer, "to tax your memory." "A wall in the audience. "Has it come to that?"
